GRAND JURY CALLS FOR THOS. FELDER AND POLICE HEADS

Subpoenas Served Monday Night on the Principals in Dictagraph Case and in Charges of Corruption.

GRAND JURY TO HOLD INVESTIGATION TODAY

Mayor Woodward, Col. Felder, Chief Beavers, Chief Lanford, Carl Hutcheson and Jno. Black Subpoenaed

That the Fulton county grand jury will undertake today an investigation of both sides of the Beavers-Felder controversy was made apparent by the formal summons issued last night to all the principals in the affair.

An added element of mystery to the investigation comes in the attempt made to summon Mrs. Mima Formby, the woman who made affidavit that Leo M. Frank, now indicted for the murder of Mary Phagan, attempted to rent a room from her for himself and a girl on the night of the murder.

Many Subpoenas Issued.

Mayor Woodward, Chief Beavers, Colonel Felder, Chief Lanford, Charlie Jones, proprietor of the "Rex" saloon; Attorney Carl Hutcheson, City Detective John Black and Mrs. Formby were the principals upon whom Foreman Beck ordered subpoenas served Monday night.

Charlie Jones was served in person with a summons to attend the grand jury this morning in the case of "The state versus John Doe"; the others, with the exception of Mrs. Formby, who is said to have left the city, were notified by telephone that their presence was required Tuesday morning before the grand jury.

The charges made by Chief Lanford and other detectives in his force that Colonel Felder had offered a bribe of $1,000 for an affidavit made by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Coleman, parents of the murdered Phagan girl, and also for other affidavits in the case, and the ensuing charges hurled at the police department by Chief Felder and others interested, in which the department was charged with graft and corruption stirred Atlanta.

Beavers Asks Probe.

Chief Beavers immediately asked that the grand jury take the matter up and go to the bottom of the charges against himself and the men under him, and Colonel Felder declared that he was ready at any time for the charges against him to be investigated.

That the grand jury would take up the matter at an early date and probe it has been the general belief of Atlantans who read of the various charges, and when it was announced last week by Solicitor Dorsey that the grand jury would meet on Tuesday morning it immediately became the general belief that the special session would be for this purpose.

This was denied by statements by both the solicitor and the foreman, who declared that the purpose of the meeting was to submit the committees for routine work, as is done by each grand jury, and which had been delayed by this jury on account of its investigation and indictment of Leo Frank.

Secrecy Shrouds Summons.

Every effort on the part of the officials to keep quiet the real intentions of the meeting was made, and not until

LEO FRANK'S COOK PUT UNDER ARREST

Reported That She Is Being Held as Witness—Defense of Prisoner in the Tower Outlined.

Another arrest was made yesterday in the Phagan mystery. Minola McKnight, cook and servant in the Leo Frank household, was sent to police headquarters by Detectives Starnes and Campbell when she hysterically created a scene at Pryor and Mitchell streets, sobbing and moaning that "they were going to hang her for something she knew nothing about."

She is being held under a charge of suspicion. Chief Lanford said last night, however, that she will likely be used as a witness against her suspected employer. She has not been questioned yet by the police or detectives, but will be put through a cross-examination some time soon.

Although officials at headquarters will not talk regarding the arrest of the McKnight woman, the general impression prevails that she is being held as a material witness and that she was taken into custody because of discrepancies rumored to have been found in her statement to Solicitor Dorsey.

It is reported that she has told a number of conflicting stories, and for this reason the solicitor ordered her confinement until time of trial. The solicitor will have nothing to say on the subject.

Leo Frank's Defense.

sources Monday that Frank's defense

It was learned from responsible will be in the production of an alibi. Five witnesses, it is said, are prepared to testify that the suspect was at home by 1:30 o'clock on the day of the tragedy. They are Mrs. Frank, Miss Corinthia Hall, his mother-in-law, Mrs. Emil Selig, his father-in-law, Emil Selig, and the negress who was arrested Monday.

Testimony before the coroner's inquest indicated strongly that Frank reached his home by 1:20 o'clock, and that he did not leave until 1:56. It was during this time that Conley, the sweeper, accuses him of having written the murder notes found beside Mary Phagan's body. Another contention, it is reported, to be made by the defense is that the murder was committed on the first floor instead of the second, and that Conley is the guilty man.

Luther Z. Rosser, Frank's counsel, maintains his usual silence. He will give reporters nothing of his line of defense, but neither denies nor affirms the rumor of an alibi. The defense, it is reported, will claim that Conley, made passionately insane by liquor, was in hiding on the first floor when Mary Phagan entered at noon, and that she was attacked by him as she left Frank in the office and came downstairs on her way to the street.

Many bits of evidence, it is said, will be produced to corroborate this contention. One of which is the fact, or alleged fact, that the elevator was not run on the tragic day—another, that there were no blood spots in the metal room alleyway in which Conley vows he discovered the body. Also, it will be contended that there were no gunny sacks on the ground floor during Saturday with which Conley could have attempted to pack the body as he has described in his confession.

Use Confession Against Him.

Conley's previous confessions will also be used against him. It will be shown how he repeatedly changed his story, the startling confession of Thursday night. Explanation of the blood spots

COUNCIL AGREES TO PAY $260,000 FOR CREMATORY

Arrangement Between the Finance Committee and Representatives of Destructor Company Ends Dispute.

MAYOR WOODWARD SAYS THAT HE IS SATISFIED

By Agreement Atlanta Will Get Fine Plant and Will Save $32,009 in Interest and Maintenance Obligations.

The finale to the crematory wrangle was written yesterday afternoon, when council ratified the $260,000 outright purchase agreement made by W. G. Humphrey, chairman of the finance committee, and Attorney George C. Spence, representing the New York Destructor company.

Through the deal negotiated by the finance subcommittee, the city will save approximately $32,800 in interest and maintenance obligations, and the Destructor company earns a fair profit.

Mayor James G. Woodward, most formidable opponent of the proposal to pay the company $7,000 for the plant, declared that he was satisfied with the agreement. He estimates that his fight on the crematory has saved about $65,000 to the city.

Atlanta Has Best Plant.

"And Atlanta has got the best plant the company has ever erected," he says. "It will be the only one in the city many more thousand dollars as the result of the decision of the Georgia supreme court."

The resolution urging the purchase of the property was unanimously adopted by council, even in view of the fact that every new project contemplated for this year is to be sacrificed, and the June finance sheet scuttled. Every member of council made patriotic sacrifices in order that the crematory be carried through in accordance with the decision of the supreme court.

Councilman Neville Hall, chairman of the street committee, who has been striving to make this year a record breaker in street improvement, saw $50,000 which he has asked the finance committee to appropriate for special street improvement, wiped away. W. G. Humphrey, chairman of the finance committee, who engineered the negotiations with Attorney Spence, sacrificed nearly $32,000 from the eighth ward apportionment.

How Money Will Be Paid.

The agreement, which council ratified is substantially as follows:

The city is to pay $260,000 for the plant; $125,000 now in the sinking fund at once, and the balance, $128,000, be put into the sheet, but to be held back until the Destructor company demonstrates that the plant is capable of burning garbage for 25 cents per ton. The approval of the plant to be certified by Captain R. M. Clayton, chief of construction and the board of health. If either of the payments above are delayed, they are to bear interest at the rate of 7 per cent from the date council directs the payments to be made.

The finance committee will meet at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning and will make up the June sheet. It will report back to council Thursday afternoon, and when the sheet is adopted

NEGRO SUSPECTS IN STEVENS CASE NEAR LYNCHING

While Officers Were Searching for Clues at Murder Scene Infuriated Crowd of Farmers Gathered.

PRISONERS ARE RUSHED TO ATLANTA BY AUTO

Members of Mob Were About to Place Rope Around Neck of One Black When Officers Arrived.

Only the timely arrival of Detective Chief Lanford in an automobile, in which he rushed away the two negro suspects in the Stevens double murder, yesterday afternoon, prevented a double lynching by a mob of incensed DeKalb county farmers, who were held in check by revolvers in the hands of the detectives until the appearance of their chief.

No shots were fired, although every gun available was drawn by the detectives and other officials. Sheriff McCurdy, of DeKalb, also drew his gun, threatening to shoot the first man who advanced upon the prisoners. The negroes were rushed into the city, and held at police headquarters for safe-keeping.

The negroes are Ernest Maynard and Walter Wilkes, both of whom were arrested Friday at the advice of Wade Stevens, son of the murdered Mrs. Stevens. They had been taken at noon Monday to the ruins of the Stevens home for an inspection to be made by Mother Road sister, but who was at headquarters, with Sheriff McCurdy. While the detectives examined the ruins the prisoners were left tied to a tree.

Bonds Are Severed.

A gradually increasing mob of whites rapidly appeared on the scene and gathered around the trees to which the negroes were tied. Their bonds were severed, and a noose was formed at a large hemp rope. The noose was about to be fitted around the throat of one of the suspects the detectives became aware of their captives' danger.

Rushing with his gun drawn, Rosser, the fellow officers and Sheriff McCurdy, commanded the infuriated whites to loose hold of the negroes. For a moment it looked as though there would be an exchange of shots. The determined manner of the sheriff and detectives, however, unnerved the mob. The negroes were turned over to their lawful captors.

The mob increased faster. Chief Lanford was telephoned at police headquarters. Jumping into the automobile of Chief Beavers he sped to the scene, arriving as the crowd of whites grew to alarming proportions. Had his machine been a few minutes later, it is reported, a double lynching would have occurred.

The negroes were bundled into the car and whirled away. They were taken to police headquarters, sentenced to life without. The detectives home is too high, authorities say, to imperil the lives of the prisoners by removal to DeKalb county.

Stevens Wife Officers.

Wade Stevens, who was the first suspect arrested in the murder of his mother and brother, Mrs. Stevens and Leased Friday afternoon, was with the detectives when the lynching was threatening. Although he was unarmed, he stood beside the defenders of the blacks, and with a huge rock in his hand, threatened to hurl it into the mob if they advanced further upon their proposed prey.

The coil of suspicion is tightening around both negroes, the detectives say. They already have been caught in many falsehoods, it is said, and the theory now advanced is that both suspects were implicated in the murder, committed for the purpose of robbery.

Under heavy guard, commanded by Sheriff McCurdy, the two suspects were removed from police headquarters last night to the DeKalb jail in Decatur. Strong precautions have been placed by their cells to prevent further trouble. Sheriff McCurdy, over the telephone, told The Constitution at 10 o'clock that he feared further disturbance, and that the negroes were safe as long as they were behind the bars of his prison.

CENTRAL TRAIN FALLS THRO' BLAZING TRESTLE

Engineer and Fireman Dying and Brakeman Dead—Accident Near Fort Valley.

Macon, Ga., June 3.—Oscar D. Touchstone, engineer, Macon, is dying, a negro brakeman is dead, and a negro fireman is probably dying as the result of a Central of Georgia freight plunging headlong into the dry bed of Beaver creek through a burned trestle tonight about 1:30 o'clock.

Beaver creek is 10 miles from Fort Valley, and a wrecker from Macon and a relief train from Fort Valley have been dispatched and are on the scene.

Shortly after 11 o'clock Conductor Jenkins reached Everett's station, 2 miles from the scene of the wreck, and telephoned the dispatcher's office in Macon. He said that when he left the engine was piled in the creek with 10 burning box cars on top of it.

The wrecking crew reports to Macon that Engineer Touchstone has been taken from the wreck. He is living, but is fearfully crushed, and will probably die in a few minutes.

A negro brakeman, who was riding in the cab, has not been found, and is believed to be dead under the engine.

The fire is under control. Train service between Macon and Columbus will be tied up for at least 18 hours.

Beautiful Mrs. Leeds May Wed Abroad

Mrs. Nonnie Leeds, the attractive widow of William B. Leeds, the "tinplate king," is meeting with social conquests among the fashionable set in London, and the gossips are busy with rumors of her suitors. Mrs. Leeds gained much notice when she went to England with her little son, William Bateman Leeds, Jr., heir to $30,000,000, and said that she was going to bring him up in that country rather than in America because England was the best place to educate boy millionaires. The lad, whom some said came as near being a spoiled child as ever crossed the water, stayed there for some time and then his mother took him back to America. She left him to live alone in the $250,000 mansion at Montclair, N. J., in charge of a retinue of servants. Mrs. Leeds is wealthy in her own right, and has been a leader of the American smart set in London.

MOTHERS' PLEAS RELEASE 15 YOUNG BALL PLAYERS CAUGHT IN POLICE ROUNDUP

The time was 9 o'clock last night; the diamond, the street at Woodward avenue and Grant. The teams, the Black Cats and the Tigers, or any other name you wish.

And just as the man in the box began his delivery, Officers Shumate and Palmer, of the local police department, rode up on their motorcycles.

There was a hasty scampering, but finally the neighbors succeeded in helping the officers round them all up.

A number of times calls had been sent into the police station, asking that ball-playing on the streets at Woodward and Grant be stopped, especially at night, as frequently foul balls invaded the porches of residences.

The officers rounded the players up, something like fifteen in number, and one called the police patrol, as many of the future Ty Cobbs were of age to lock up.

Then the pleading began. Mothers and fathers came out, aunts and uncles, and even a few sweet old grandma's, who tearfully exclaimed: "Don't; please don't, Mr. Officer, arrest my grandson. Willie, for there has never been a relative of mine arrested in the history of the family."

But something had to be done, as the childless neighbors had registered several kicks at headquarters. So each officer took a little group aside and lectured them in a nice manner. Then the law was laid down. They were told where they could play, and where they could not play, and why.

Finally, after each separate "star" had given the officers his personal promise that he would never again play on the streets, they were released on condition that next time there would be something more serious in store for them.

IMPROPER ADVANCES MADE TO THREE WOMEN

Probing Committee Convicts School Superintendent Heeter, of Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, June 2.—Superintendent of Schools S. L. Heeter, whose morality was investigated by a committee of seven appointed by the board of education, was adjudged guilty of "making improper advances and taking unwarranted liberties" with three women, in the report of the committee, made to the board tonight.

The board received the report and ordered that a copy be placed in the hands of the superintendent, that he be suspended and that under the provisions of the school code he be accorded a hearing tomorrow.

The finding of the committee was unanimous on the immorality charges, but in the matter of an alleged refusal to pay the bill of a teacher's agency the majority found that the superintendent "made an improper and dishonest proposition to use his official position in order to compromise a claim amade against him individually."

The latter case, known as the Brewer letter, was brought about by a claim for moneys alleged to be due for services in securing Heeter his position. Heeter is said to have written a letter offering to find positions under his jurisdiction for applicants to the agency in payment of the claim against him.

With the report the committee submitted to the board of education a sealed package containing the testimony taken in the committee's investigation. This the board declined to make public.

Rumors associating Heeter's name with charges brought by a domestic, who was taken from his home to a hospital in a serious condition, began weeks ago. When it was thought the girl would die the coroner was summoned and Heeter was implicated in the girl's statement. Heeter was indicted, arrested, tried and found not guilty.

He then returned to his duties, having been given leave of absence during his trial. Then followed a demonstration on "strike" of school children and more rumors associating Heeter's name with other unpleasant cases other than that of the domestic. To clear the situation the board of education, unable to get anything but anonymous charges, authorized appointment of a committee of citizens to take testimony. This committee was composed of W. H. Stevenson, president of the chamber of commerce; Rabbi J. Leonard Levy, Bishop Cortlandt Whitehead, of the Protestant Episcopal diocese; A. Leo Weil, president of the Voters' Civic League; Valentine Barie, a prominent labor leader, and the Rev. Dr. Shelton. Bishop Regis Canevin, of the Roman Catholic diocese, declined to serve on the committee.

SENATORS GRILLED ABOUT LOBBYISTS, BUT KNOW NOTHING

All So Far Examined Deny Knowledge of Existence of a Lobby to Fight Tariff Revision.

SENATOR BACON TELLS OF HIS INVESTMENTS

Says No One Has Approached Him Improperly—Ashurst Says Indian Attorney Is Only Lobbyist He Knows.

By John Corigan, Jr.

Washington, June 2.—(Special.)—United States senators tonight are sore. They feel they have been bunkoed in the lobby investigation, and that the suspicion has been created in the minds of the people that the senate is corrupt.

A lobby investigation has become an investigation of the senate. Eighteen members of the upper body appeared before a committee of their own members today and answered a list of extremely personal questions as to their holdings, their visitors and their general knowledge of lobbyists and lobbying.

Preliminary to the investigation Senator Overman, chairman of the committee, and Senator Reed, of Missouri, a democratic member, called at the white house and secured the directions of the president as to the nature and scope of the inquiry.

Washington, June 2.—The senate struck out boldly today on the trail of the "insidious lobby" which President Wilson declared is operating to modify the tariff bill. At the end of four senators an hour the colleagues of the five men on the investigating subcommittee stepped to the witness, took the oath and then told their stories of senatorial wealth, or poverty or moderate circumstances of business and professional connection and of their interest or lack of it in the tariff measure.

Suspicion that the trail might prove a winding one, with many a strang turning brought out a good-sized crowd that listened intently to these tales from senatorial life. As senator after senator denied knowledge of the existence of an organized lobby, declared that improper influences had not been exerted upon him and that money to influence legislation never had appeared upon the congressional horizon at the present session the crowd lost its appetite and slowly thinned out. Spectators who looked for sensations went away empty-handed.

Less Lobbying Than Usual.

Senators who had served in congress for many years repeatedly testified during the all-day session that they believed there was less personal appeal to members of the two houses now than at any tariff revision of recent years. Nearly a dozen and a half senators had been examined before the end of tonight's session; and while

THE WOMAN'S EDITION APPEARS TOMORROW

The Woman's Edition of The Atlanta Constitution, issued by the Federated Women's Clubs of Georgia, which has been in preparation for several months, appears tomorrow morning.

For a week or more, the club women and The Constitution's operating organization and plant have been working practically day and night whipping the matter into shape, editing and printing the advance sections and making plans for the final day. With the work almost completed, except the printing of the final sections, there is every confidence that the Woman's Edition will fully meet the expectations, from every standpoint, of every one who has been interested in it. Not only will it be a glorious monument to the ability, enterprise and industry of the women of Georgia, but wholly aside from the work and movement which it represents, it will be a unique, interesting and readable newspaper from purely journalistic standards.

The public is solicited to buy the edition as it is offered for sale everywhere, primarily because it will be a fine newspaper and secondarily because the Ella F. White Memorial Endowment Fund of the Federation will participate in the proceeds of sales.

As a final announcement, we ask that Wednesday, June 4, be made a gala day in celebration of the edition and the work which it represents by club women and their friends everywhere, and suggest that Federation women wherever possible wear white dresses with green badges (white and green are the colors of the Federation) and assist in every way possible in promoting the sale of copies.

The executive committee of the Woman's Edition will receive all club women and their friends at the rooms in The Constitution building, throughout the day. Light refreshments will be served.

Special Sale in Atlanta.

The sale of the Woman's Edition in Atlanta will be under the supervision of the club women. they disclosed freely their personal business affairs and the extent of their property investments, the committee found no evidence of the use of senatorial or outside influence to improperly effect tariff legislation.

The majority of the senators declared they did not consider men who legitimately appeared to present arguments to congress as lobbyists. Both democratic and republican senators expressed the opinion that the "interested parties" had the right to present their causes either to individual senators or to committees of either house.

Names of a score or more men who have appeared to protest against a cut in sugar, wool, lead, meat, flour and similar duties, were given by different senators, but the only one referred to as a "lobbyist" was a man named McMurray, who, Senator Ashurst said he believed had attempted to influence action in favor of the approval of certain Indian contracts in which he was interested. All senators who testified today declared they had no interest in any business in any way affected by legislation now or previously before congress.

Wilson to Give Information.

Just before the committee began taking testimony, Chairman Overman and Senator Reed conferred with President Wilson. It was said the president would not be called before the committee, but would transmit any information he might have on the subject of a "lobby."

Every senator was prepared to answer a series of eleven questions, which constituted a "grilling" to determine whether he has any personal interest in the tariff or other legislation, and to find out what persons have approached him in the effort to influence his action on schedules of the tariff bill.

It has been estimated that hundreds of men interested in manufacturing or other business, affected by the tariff, have been in Washington during the last few weeks, and many senators claim it would be impossible to remember all the persons who have called upon them to make appeal for changes.

President Wilson's declaration that an "insidious lobby," large and powerful, was at work, led many to believe that the committee might suggest to President Wilson that he could make a personal statement to committee members, either at the capitol or at the white house, giving any information he has. The senate resolution requests the president to give such information as he may have to the committee.

Bacon Objected to Picture.

When the hearing opened, some newspaper photographers ordered the committee members around in a business-like way, while a picture was taken. Senators Bacon and Ashurst moved aside.

"I don't care to get into such a picture," said Senator Bacon.

Senator Ashurst testified he was not interested directly or indirectly financially in the production, manufacture or sale of an article mentioned in the tariff bill, or any other bill pending before congress, nor had he sought to influence any other senator.

The committee then made the first effort to secure a list of so-called "lobbyists," or persons who have "talked with senators" about the tariff bill. Senator Ashurst said he had not kept a record of those who had talked with him, but he was prepared to give names of all he could remember.

The first was "William Kettner, of California," who had asked him to find out whether there would be any further reduction in the tariff on lemons and fruits. The senator asked Chairman Simmons, of the finance committee, and the latter said he thought the Underwood rates would stand.

"But I told him," said Senator Ashurst, "that I wanted it distinctly understood that in asking the question I was not urging that the tariff be not reduced."

Nothing Improper

A Mr. McClure, representing western sheep men, and a Mr. Tomlinson, representing cattlemen, Senator Ashurst said, called upon him and by legitimate arguments sought to show him that the sheep and cattle business would be hurt by the bill.

"Nothing improper was said to me by these men, and what they did every American citizen has a right to do—talk to their senator about their business affairs," said he. No one, he declared, had tried improperly to influence his action.

Senator Ashurst said he did believe, however, that "a man named McMurray" had been attempting to influence improperly the action of senators with respect to preventing the cancellation of certain contracts he (McMurray) held with Cherokee Indians for the sale of land whereby he would receive $3,500,000.

"He is the smoothest lobbyist I have ever seen," added the senator. "He could carry a bundle of eels upstairs without dropping a single one."

J. F. McMurray, an attorney of McAlester, Okla., and prominently identified with Indian legislation, has a contract with the Cherokee Indians for the sale of $35,000,000 worth of land, for which he is to receive 10 per cent. There is a movement in congress to annul his contracts.

Senator Ashurst said he considered any man or woman a "lobbyist" who "button-holed" senators or members of congress and urged them to vote for "certain measures or suffer reprisals in the elections."

"I don't consider a man a lobbyist who files legitimate arguments with congress about matters in which he is interested," the senator said.

Senator Bacon's Interests.

Senator Bacon, who followed Senator Ashurst, said that "out of an abundance of caution" he wanted to tell the committee that he owned a small farm in Georgia on which some articles might be raised that were affected by the tariff. A sewer pipe factory, a street railway, a gas company and an electric company were other industries in which Senator Bacon said he had some interest.

"I don't believe any of them are affected by any of this legislation, he said; "I am sure I want no duty on sewer pipe."

Senator Bacon said he had not tried to influence members of senate except in a general way to urge a reduction of tariff on articles of general use.

"I have not listened to a single man or heard a single argument on this tariff bill," he said. "I have received a great many letters and circulars.

"I have seen very much less effort to influence legislation in this bill than in previous ones. It doesn't compare with the consideration of the Payne-Aldrich bill in that respect"

No person had attempted to influence him improperly, Senator Bacon said and he knew nothing of attempts to use money for lobbying purposes.

"I don't think a man who comes here to represent an interest in which he himself is concerned, to present arguments, is a lobbyist," said the senator. "Neither do I think a lawyer who comes here in a legitimate way to represent a reputable industry is a lobbyist."

Senator Bacon knew of no recognized "lobbyists" giving dinners or social affairs, seeking to influence legislation.

Senator Bacon concluded by testifying he had heard there were two "sugar" organizations in Washington, "one for free sugar and the other against it."

Borah on the tSand.

Senator Bankhead was called, but didn't respond. Senator Borah took the stand.

"No," was his answer to all questions as to whether he was interested in any industry, or represented professionally an industry affected by the tariff.

"I retired from my profession when I entered the senate," he said. The senator was a lawyer.

Harry Day and a Mr. McCarthy, of Idaho, he said, had talked to him about lead; Frank J. Hagenbarth and Dr. McClure, officials of the Wool Growers' association, in regard to wool and several men from Louisiana in regard to sugar. The names of the latter he could not remember.

Senator Borah said no one had attempted improperly to influence him, and he had no knowledge of the use of money. He told the lead and sugar men he thought the bill would pass as written, and it was not worth while to spend the time discussing it.

"I don't consider the men who called upon me as lobbyists," he added. "They were all men legitimately representing industries which they believed would be affected." He added he had seen "no lobbyists" at this session.

"Did you see them at former sessions?" asked Senator Reed.

"We all make up our minds about certain men that we believe are trying to influence legislation," he said.

Pressed for names, Senator Borah said he regarded "the man mentioned by Senator Ashurst as interested in securing certain Indian legislation."

Senator Bradley testified he was not financially interested in the tariff bill. The only man who talked to him was Sid B. Reading, of Little Rock, Ark., who wanted to know if the income tax would apply to life insurance policies.

Brandegee Has No Interest.

Senator Brandegee declared he had no interest in any concern manufacturing or handling anything affected by the tariff; no professional connection with others affected in the legislation, and had not attempted to influence other senators in behalf of any certain interests.

Of those who called on him, Senator Brandegee recalled Henry Hall, of Williamantic, Conn., a thread manufacturer; W. W. Skiddy, of Stamford, and Cheney Brothers, silk manufacturers, of South Manchester, Mass. These and others, he said, argued that reduced duties would ruin their business. The senator knew of no improper use of money or influence; knew of no lobbyist and of no expenditures of money to maintain a lobby.

Senator Bristow gave a list of nearly a dozen men who called on him.

"It is my duty to hear all views and get all the information I can," said he.

F. C. Lowry, of New York, "an employee of the Federal Sugar company," saw him in favor of free sugar. H. C. Oxnard, of New York, saw him in favor of a tariff on sugar. A. D. Baldwin, of Honolulu; Jules Godchaux and E. F. Dickinson, of Louisiana, also discussed sugar. S. W. McClure, of Salt Lake City, came to his office in regard to wool. Henry Lasson, a Wichita miller, asked for an equalization of the wheat and flour rates; W. D. Baird, of Detroit, another caller, was an expert builder of beet sugar factories, and S. H. Cowan, of Fort Worth, Texas, made the "usual argument against placing cattle on the free list.

"I think these men are all clean-minded and really believe in their cases," said the senator.

Senator Bristow know of no use of money, but supposed it was being "legitimately used" to pay for advertising and printed matter.

He considered it "perfectly legitimate business" for men interested in industries that might be affected to present their arguments to senators either personally or through attorneys.

Bryan and Oranges.

Senator Bryan, when the hearing was resumed, testified that he was financially interested in the bill only in that he had invested $5,000 in a purchase mortgage on an orange grove. He had been before a senate subcommittee dealing with citrus fruits, finding that the ways and means comittee had an erroneous idea of the size of orange boxes, and had consequently cut the present rate on citrus fruits more than the 50 per cent intended. He explained he drafted an amendment to cure that defect and presented it to the subcommittee.

Senator Catron told the committee he had substantial interests in lands in New Mexico, on which were lead, zinc, coal and timber.

"My firm is legal representative for a number of people interested in lands containing coal and timber," he said, "and for people interested in sheep and wool."

Senator Catron said he had not tried to influence anyone on tariff, and that no improper influences had been brought to bear on him. He testified that should he vote for free coal, he would be voting from $25,000 to $40,000 out of his own pocket.

Senator Clapp testified he had never tried to influence any other senator. When the Canadian reciprocity bill was up in 1911 he oposed a reduction in the duty on wheat, and made a speech against it, he said. Senator Clapp said he did not represent any one interested in tariff.

He Has Seen No Lobbyists.

Senator Clarke, of Arkansas, said he had no legal connection with any interests before congress; that he had not sought to influence anyone to vote for anything. Once during the present session, he said, he had invited three Louisiana rice experts to his office, to discuss effect of the proposed rice tariff upon the product of Arkansas. As a result of that conference, he said, he had not made any representations to other sentaors. He declared he had not seen or come in contact with any "lobbying" at the capitol.

Senator Burton, of Ohio, said he believed there were fewer "legislative agents" or representatives here than during previous tariff sessions. He declared improper influences were exerted by bombarding senators with "inspired telegrams" rather than by interviews with them, adding that commercial organizations and individuals often were led to send requests to senators at the instigation of some person with a selfish motive.

Senator Burton read a statement in which he said:

"In more than twenty memberships in the house and senate, no outsider either from Washington or elsewhere has ever made any proposition or suggestion to me which smacked in the least degree of corruption. Representatives of organized labor have been most insistent in their demands, but as I think, with no intention of using improper methods.

"The two matters which have seemed to me to require the most careful scrutiny have been the controversy in regard to the isthmian canal route, that is the choice between Panama and Nicaragua, and legislation for grants of water power."

Senator Chamberlain, of Oregon, declared it was impossible to recall the names of all tariff callers, because he often listened to arguments without knowing the names of the speakers. Those interested in the wool schedule, particularly, had visited him, he said. He recalled in this connection the names of F. E. Kiph, a mohair manufacturer, and a Mr. McCarthy, "probably of Texas," who wanted protection for Angora goats. Others who called upon him, he said, were S. W. McClure, secretary of the National Wool Growers' association, and representatives of the jute bag and the hop industries.

Printed slips in favor of free sugar had been sent him by consumers, Senator Chamberlain said, and like slips in regard to insurance policies.

Clark's Small Coal Mine.

Senator Clark, of Wyoming, the first witness at the night session of the committee, said he was interested in a small coal mine near his home. "I have never tried to influence any senator," he said, "but if I thought my influence was of any weight, I would use it toward saving duty on coal. I have always believed in a duty on coal, even before I became interested in a small way personally. I think that is perfectly proper." The senator said he knew of no organized lobby.

Senator Cummins wanted to know whether efforts to force a legislator to accept the judgment of the majority of his party constituted "lobbying."

Senator Clark replied that "in a multitude of counsel there is wisdom," but expressed the opinion that every legislator should cast his vote upon the merits of a proposition.

Senator Jackson, of Maryland, testified that he was a director and secretary and treasurer of a lumber company, owning one-third of the company's $500,000 stock; president of a shirt factory and a "very small minority stockholder of the steel trust."

He said he had used no influence in connection with tariff rates.

Questioned by Senator Cummins, the senator said he thought the Underwood bill would injure the lumber business. He said his steel corporation holdings consisted of 1,000 shares of preferred stock of $100 par value.

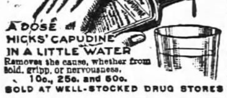

Senator Chilton told the committee he was interested in some small coal lands in West Virginia and oil and gas lands in Ohio. He said he had never tried to influence any senator except to "ask them to be good democrats and abide by the party caucus." He said he knew of no organized lobby. Senator Crawford, of South Dakota, testified he knew nothing of a lobby. When he concluded the committee adjourned until tomorrow.

MEATS AND FLOUR OFF THE FREE LIST

The Democrats of the Senate Propose Important Change in Agricultural Schedule. Lisestock Men Protest.

Washington, June 2.—Meats and flour will not go on the free list in the democratic tariff law if recommendation of the senate finance subcommittee in charge of the agricultural scheduse is accepted. This important alteration of the Underwood bill, as it passed the house, was determined upon today by the subcommittee composed of Senators Williams, Shirley and Gore. It was decided, in carrying out the determination to perfect the Underwood bill by equalizing raw materials and their products, that it would be wiser to levy nominal duties on meats and flour products than to put live stock and grain on the free list.

Taken From Free List.

In accordance with this decision the subcommittee took from the free list fresh meats—beef, mutton and pork—and made them dutiable at 10 per cent ad valorem. Wheat flour was restored to the dutiable list at the specific rate of 45 cents a barrel, with other wheat products at 10 per cent ad valorem, and the Underwood duty on oats was reduced from 10 cents per bushel to 6 cents per bushel, with a compensatory duty on oat meal said to be approximately 5 per cent ad valorem.

This rate on oatmeal was not definitely determined, but it is assured that the recommendation will be to take oatmeal from the free list. Cattle, sheep and hogs will be left as they are in the proposed bill, dutiable at 10 per cent ad valorem, and the Underwood duty of 10 cents a bushel on wheat will stand.

These recommendations will be made to the finance committee late this week or early next week, and the senators who propose the change believe it will have the approval of the majority members and also of the democratic caucus.

Soon after the passage of the Underwood bill by the house there were many protests against differentiating between raw materials and their products, and it was one of the first features to be taken up with the senate leaders and President Wilson. Several weeks ago the committee determined to equalize the rates one way or another, and a few days ago President Wilson was consulted about the matter by Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, and Senator Williams.

Another development today was the approval, without change, of the sugar schedule as it passed the house; and other schedules advanced to varying stages of completion in the subcommittees. It also was announced by Senator Shively that, in his opinion, the tariff bill as it goes to the senate committee will be a lower bill in the aggregate than the Underwood bill.

Livestock Men Protest.

A protest filed today by the American Livestock association said in part:

"The result of the free admission of meats from other surplus countries would be, first of all, to discourage the livestock business and if the prices were forced to the level of Argentina beef or Australian mutton, the business would be so unprofitable that this country would soon cease to produce its own meat."

Armour, Swift and Morris have large plants in Argentina, the protest asserted, and handle 39 per cent of the export trade of South America. Two of these firms are building large plants in Uruguay. Swift & Co. is building a plant in Brisbane, Queensland. There are three plants in Canada operated by the same American packers.

"The proposition that to place meat on the free list would result in curbing the so-called beef trust is preposterous," the petition continued.

"Whatever control American packers have over prices in this country would be increased instead of lessened by free meats.

"The capacity of the United States for production of livestock has not been reported. The present output could probably be doubled. Remunerative prices will bring this about. Unprofitable prices will result in a decreased production.

"We are in favor of an equal duty on all meat and livestock and that duty should not be less than 15 per cent ad valorem in order to be fair and equitable to the livestock and farming interests of this country."

Millers Present Petition.

Protesting against "the unequal treatment of wheat and flour in the Underwood bill," millers of St. Louis presented a petition to the finance committee. "This," they said, "is not protection for the producer, but it is a great and serious handicap imposed by the government of the United States against the mills of our own country. We submit that such a policy is indefensible. We urge that the flour duty be reduced relatively the same as the wheat duty and imposed against all countries."

Resolutions by the Chicago Board of Trade urged an amendment of the bill to "provide for a duty of 10 cents per bushel on wheat and rye and an equivalent duty on the products of wheat and rye on all importations."

Buffalo cereal manufacturers petitioning against free oatmeal and dutiable oats, stated that the largest manufacturer of rolled oats in the United States has two large mills in Canada. They urged that oats be placed on the free list.

SEED CRUSHERS IN CONVENTION

Bond, McKee, Soule and Law Deliver Addresses at Atlantic Beach—Attendance Is Unusually Large.

Atlantic Beach, Fla., June 2.—(Special.)—The ninth annual convention of the Cotton Seed Crushers' Association of Georgia was opened with an unusually large attendance, in the convention hall of the Atlantic Beach hotel this morning. Following the invocation an address of welcome by Mr. H. M. Stanford, manager Atlantic Beach hotel, to which a response was made on behalf of the association by Hon B. L. Bond, vice president, of Royston, Ga.

Mr. Bond's Address.

Mr. Bond began by paying a deserved tribute to the cotton seed oil industry, and referred to it as one of the greatest up-building of the south. He then paid tribute to the memory of the late H. M. Flagler, who has done so much to develop the state, whose guests the association was. His address was sparkling, brilliant, and entertaining and was frequently punctuated by spontaneous bursts of applause. He pointed out the fact that the cotton seed oil industry became a necessity when it was found improvident to ship cotton seed to England, on account of the lint taking up water, and added that the south had lost millions of dollars through letting them rot for such a long time before the crushing process was known.

He declared that the modern cotton oil mill furnished a university course on many of the laws of nature, and in these mills, there was as good apparatus for the study of the lever and crank, bodies in motion, hydraulics, momentum and inertia, heat, light, sound, magnetism and electricity, as were found in the laboratories of Dartmouth, when Daniel Webster went to school. He declared that the employment of the child race gave to these primitive people the opportunity for improvement second only to Tuskegee, and that frequently he was at a loss to determine from the education of the worker whether he had studied under Booker Washington, or worked in an oil mill in Georgia. In conclusion, Mr. Bond said:

"In our president's office is a picture of a loaded train of tank cars, rounding a curve, on their merciful errand to feed the teeming millions of the world, and as I saw those cars I said to myself, 'Behold, the gravy train.' And I never loosen from its mooring on my village side track a bulging tank car, with its brimming dome, that I do not think of all of the congested districts of this earth; of all the bowls without gravy and cupboards without butter; of all the dinner pails, lean and bare; and of all the hands of famine stretching forth, and I hope that nothing from out this tank car will be lost and raise my hand in blessing above their frugal board."

President F. W. McKee formally called the convention to order and after organization, delivered his annual address. Mr. McKee's speech was received with great applause, for it pointed out the splendid work which was being done in the interest of the industry, and to the betterment of conditions throughout Georgia.

President McKee's Address.

President McKee began his address with a hearty greeting of welcome to the large assemblage, and especially the ladies, who graced the convention hall. He referred to the fact that the season among the oil mills of Georgia just ceased, had been somewhat trying in many directions during the past year owing to the poor condition of the seed for one thing and the shortness of the cotton crop in Georgia, for which conditions the membership was in no-wise responsible.

He pointed out that the relations between the producer of raw materials and the manufacture, were so intimately associated that the prosperity of each must largely depend upon the other, and urged the members to use their heartiest endeavors in bringing about improved conditions from the time the soil is prepared and the planting seed is selected to the time that the finished product is in the home of the consumer, always working to accomplish the greatest good.

He urged the members to aid the planter to secure the best cotton seed for planting purposes, and to aid him in keeping these seed clean until delivered at the mill for crushing. He pointed out only through such co-operation and careful attention in the manufacture of cotton oil products, could these products be placed in the hands of the consumer in an attractive and merchantable condition. He paid a splendid tribute to Dr. Soule for the magnificent work he is doing to improve agricultural conditions in the south and especially for pride to the efforts of Dr. Balmson to rid Georgia of the cattle tick, both of whom had been invited to address the convention.

He referred to and indorsed the recommendation of former President McBurney, that the crushers should lend every effort to preparing to combat the boll weevil which is scheduled to reach Georgia next year, and pointed out the menace to this industry when this pest arrives.

He declared that the present tariff bill would give a reduction on dress cloth, bagging and ties, which would be a great benefit to the industry. Only one member of the association had died during the past year, he said, B. Steinhart, of New Orleans, and he paid that pioneer in the industry a deserved tribute. His speech was concluded by extending his thanks to the association for their co-operation and to Secretary and Treasurer McCarley, whose familiarity with the work had made his administration both pleasant and easy.

Dr. Soule's Address.

He was followed by Dr. Andrew M. Soule, president of the State College of Agriculture, at Athens, Ga., always a favorite speaker with this association, on account of his wonderful knowledge of agricultural conditions. Dr. Soule spoke on "Improving the Qualities of Cotton Seed."

He called attention to the fact that an industry with an investment of $150,000,000 had been put into successful operation, and was being maintained, due solely to the cotton seed. He declared that today the cotton seed added not less than $5 per acre to the value of the crop. In view of the wonderful part now being played by the cotton seed, he declared that it was time that those interested in this industry should set about making an investigation, in order that the truth concerning the more important facts, effecting the value of cotton seed, may be ascertained. Continuing, he said:

"A systematized form of investigation through the agency of the agricultural colleges of the south should be instituted as soon as possible. The expenditure required in this direction need not be large, and where the work is properly organized, returns amounting to millions of dollars may be secured within a decade. The possibilities for improvement are almost unlimited, and as an evidence of what may be accomplished it is only necessary to refer to the results obtained with sugar beets, to show the great rewards, which will head both for the grower and the manufacturer, provided the basic principles of plant breeding be intelligently employed in the furtherance of the work."

He pointed out how, by careful breeding and seed selection, at the same time the strain of cotton fibre is improved, it is possible to increase the yield of oil in the seed, and stated that higher fertilization had been proven to be a great help in this direction. He declared that too long cotton seed were bought, planted, gathered and sold, simply as cotton seed, without any regard to the superior grades, and this fallacious state of affairs should be corrected to the benefit of all concerned at the earliest possible moment.

In conclusion, he said:

"The Cotton Seed Crushers' Association of Georgia is afforded an opportunity to aid materially in the inauguration and promotion of a line of research of fundamental and widespread importance which will not only resound to their credit, but aid in the upbuilding of the business in which they are principally concerned. The reward so worthy of the effort it will involve for this work will presently be recognized as one of the most important phases of constructive development which has been devised for placing one of the south's most important agricultural industries on a permanent and progressive basis."

At the afternoon session, Secretary and Treasurer F. D. McCarley made his report as such and as chairman of the bureau of publicity, and was followed by E. E. Dallis, Atlanta, manager of this bureau, who pointed out the wonderful educational work which was being conducted by the association in the interest of the industry.

Law Reads a Paper.

Thomas P. Law, of the well-known chemist firm of Pound-Law company, of Atlanta, read a paper on "The Quality of Crude Oil," whose paper was in part as follows:

Mr. Law said the time had arrived when it was necessary for the mill manager, in order to be successful in the operation of his property, to have a scientific knowledge of the cotton oil business, in order that he might perform those duties properly which would give to his product that finish which would secure for him the best results for his efforts extended. In order that his paper, which partook more or less of a technical nature, might be better understood, he gave a summarized statement of the chemical processes which were undergone in the refining of oil, and spoke briefly of the causes which prevented oil attaining that quality which is referred to as prime, and which is the aim of every crusher to produce.

He declared that he did not believe fertilizer affected the oil, and said that seed from highly fertilized cotton are richer in fat and protein than from cotton poorly fertilized. In order to obtain the best results from crushing, he declared that cotton should be more thoroughly dried before ginning, and regretted the fact that the old style cotton house, in which cotton was stored for weeks before ginning, had passed, and that now cotton was rushed from the field to the gin and to the oil mill, all within the space of a few hours. He spoke of cotton seed heating, and said it was like fire spreading and that one bushel of heated cotton seed could ruin 100 tons of good seed. He cautioned the crushers to use their every endeavor to prevent lubricating oil from getting into the cotton seed oil and exhibited samples to show how easily cotton seed oil was contaminated. He cautioned them against allowing the nuts scorched by being cooked, and said that the grade of the oil could often be raised by thoroughly cleaning the cookers more frequently. He said after oil had been secured, that extreme care should be exercised in keeping air and light away from it, and to expose as small surface as possible to prevent rancidity.

He was followed with an address by H. C. Brown, of Augusta, Ga., whose subject, "Proper Grading of Cotton Seed for Manufacturing Purposes," was received with a great deal of interest, for this is a subject of vital importance to the industry.

ONLY PROGRESSIVES WANTED IN THE NAVY

Secretary Daniels Tells War College No Stand-Patters Are Wanted.

Newport, R. I., June 2.—The summer conference of the naval war college was opened today with an address by Secretary Daniels, of the navy department.

Later the secretary was the guest at luncheon of Captain William L. Rodgers, president of the college.

"The chief lack in the navy today," the secretary told the officer students, "is a systematic and proper instruction of the young men who respond to our calls to enlist and who man our ships."

Referring to the alluring advertisements of the recruiting stations, promising young men opportunities for learning all kinds of trades and vocations, Mr. Daniels said, "As a matter of fact, we have neglected training them, and outside of the practical duties aboard ship they do not obtain the drilling and education which should be given them in order to keep the promise made as well as benefit the navy." He added that when men enlist they should be assigned to a regular course, being allowed to elect whether they study engineering or electricity, machinery, carpentry or other trades, and classes should be organized to teach them all. In addition, he said there should be courses in primary instruction conducted by the younger officers.

Lessons taught by the "ever changing, ever improving construction and operation of ships and accessories" were discussed in detail by the secretary. "The first," he said, "is that the man who would command ships must be open-minded, studious and inventive, ready to discard the old and test the new. There is no place in the navy for a stand-patter. You know the modern definition of that modern world is, 'A man who has stopped and cannot start.' Every good officer in the navy must be a progressive—that is, one who has started and cannot stop," started in a direction of always looking out for a better way to construct and operate ships and to make a battleship in all that pertains to it nearer perfection.

"We must put more emphasis upon initiative and less upon regulations," Secretary Daniels continued. He told of a young officer who, when he unsuccessfully attempted to resign recently, said, "I want to resign because if I stay I shall be doing the same thing fifteen years from now that I am doing today. Naval officers are bound down and fettered by regulations. There is no outlet for a man's initiative.

"The post-graduate school at Annapolis and this war college," the speaker said, "are designed to encourage naval officers to feel that the only one who is not going backward in attainment is he who is diligently seeking to increase his store of knowledge."

The secretary spoke with pride of the achievements of the American navy, declaring that "the brightest page in our history is the naval story from the time John Paul Jones said, 'I have just begun to fight,' to the day George Dewey sailed into Manila bay and said to his fellow officers, 'Well, gentlemen, a higher power than we fought this battle today.'"

Forest Service Attacked.

Washington, June 2.—In a speech today supporting his resolution for a congressional investigation of the forest service, Representative Humphrey, of Washington, declared that in one instance the Northern Pacific railroad had been permitted to exchange 450,000 barren acres for timber land worth at least $10,000,000, which is sold to the Weyerhausers. He charged that the forest service "is still working in perfect accord with and in the interest of a great private timber ownership to produce a monopoly of the timber supply and to increase the price of forest products."

Customs Reorganization.

Washington, June 2.—Senator Martine today introduced a concurrent resolution to suspend indefinitely or until further action by congress the proposed consolidation of customs collection districts. Senator Nelson said that a bill was now before the commerce committee to suspend the reorganization for two years, and that an opinion on its merits has been asked of the secretary of the treasury.

Probe Asked for Frisco.

Washington, June 2.—Representative Hinebaugh, of Illinois, introduced a resolution today to direct the interstate commerce commission to investigate and report on the management of the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad for the one year prior to the recent receivership. Step Toward Peace.

Rome, June 2.—Another important step toward peace in the Balkan states was announced today, having conceded to Greece the coast line of the former Turkish province of Epirus, between the River Kalamas and the Bay of Phtella, now France, which has supported Athens in the past, has agreed to the southern frontier of Albania, running from the south of Cape Stylos to Goritza, the town of Goritza to be included in Albania.

This solution of the frontier question is regarded here as settling in a satisfactory manner the last difficult point in the reconstitution of the autonomous state of Albania.

Balkan Premiers to Meet.

Sofia, Bulgaria, June 2.—An agreement in priciple for a meeting of the premiers of Bulgaria, Servia, Greece and Montenegro was reached last night by the Bulgarian and Servian ministers, who met at Tzaribrod, on the Bulgarian frontier, to exchange views on the Balkan situation.

STATE OFFICIALS LEAN TO REVISION

Conceding Time Not Quite Ripe for Change, They Declare Constitution in Many Respects Outgrown.

Action by the bar association at Warm Springs last week in unanimously condemning the movement for a constitutional convention has been extensively commented on by state-house officers at the capitol. It is a fact that while few of them will discuss the subject for publication, there is a strong sentiment among them that our fundamental law should be revised at a not distant date.

They do not expect public sentiment to have sufficiently crystallized to make revision a live issue this summer, but they feel that the development of the last twenty-five years has made some changes in the instrument of 1877 very much needed, and that it will only be a question of a few years before popular sentiment will demand revision.

Great Fear of Revision.

"The great fear of revision," said Secretary of State Phil Cook, "is that the bars might be let down to the state treasury, and the restrictions placed around the expenditure of money by the wisdom of Bob Toombs might be withdrawn. When he finished his work in the constitutional convention of 1877 Mr. Toombs is said to have remarked that he had locked the door of the treasury and thrown away the key. The provisions forbidding the increase of the state debt and limiting the tax to 5 mills have done more to prolong the life of our constitution than any other features in it. For some years now the tax rate has been up to the limit, and there would certainly be strong objection raised to any proposition to increase it.

"On the other hand, there are some parts of the instrument of 1877 that unquestionably need revision. There have been so many amendments passed since the original paper was ratified that it is sometimes hard to distinguish the constitution itself from the amendments. Then the codifiers have generally printed the original constitution without the amendments, and while the amendments are incorporated in the code, many people do not know where to find them. I receive frequent inquiries from people who wish to know what amendments to the constitution have been adopted and what they are. There is a great deal of confusion as matters now stand, and there will be more as the legislature goes on each year proposing new amendments, which are invariably ratified by the people.

In Favor of Revision.

A prominent treasury official, who was unwilling to be quoted for fear that he might be misunderstood, was very highly in favor of revision. He declared that, in the matter of the handling of its finances, the state was a full generation behind its needs.

"When the present constitution was adopted," he said, "the income of the state was not more than one-fourth of the present revenue. The state has doubled in population and advanced vastly more than that proportion in wealth, yet, in the management of the treasury, we are hampered by constitutional restrictions made thirty-five business that was increasing all the time and yet made no provision for this expansion in its office force for thirty-five years. There is no private business in the United States that handles as much as $5,000,000 per year, as we do, that could hope to keep solvent without adjusting itself firm year to year to business conditions. What financial institution could hope to live that would fix the salary of its president at little more than the amount required of him to pay for his bond?

"Other tendencies in our present state government that state-house officials thought might require a constitutional convention to correct were the creation of new counties, the multiplication of judicial circuits and of our courts, the amendment to the constitution by a two-thirds vote of the general assembly, for as matters now stand, ratification by the people is usually only a formality.

Powers Is in Favor.

Probably the first man in the capitol to express himself in favor of a new constitution was W. H. Power, the governor's warrant secretary. Mr. Power says that he has great respect for the bar association, and he is willing to concede that the time may not be quite ripe for revision, but he thinks it is coming.

"The lawyers may be right in deprecating the agitation for a constitutional convention at a time when the public mind throughout the country seems to be unsettled," said Mr. Powers, "but we need a new constitution, and the will not be very long before there will be a general demand for it. We must have our tax burdens equalized so that they will not bear harder on some classes than others, and on some sections than others. Then we must have a stop put to the multiplication of courts that are not needed."

THIEVES' HARD WORK ON VERY HOT NIGHT NETTED 25 CENTS

Columbus, Ga., June 2.—(Special.)—Burglars last night entered the undertaking establishment of Herring & Knight and proceeded to open a big safe located by a window within two feet of the sidewalk. The small compartments in the safe were broken into but no valuables were taken, and the only thing missing is a deed to a country church which a minister had placed in the safe for safe keeping.

The same burglars visited the adjoining office of Mahoney-Pease Realty company, where a bright light was burning, broke into every drawer in the office and secured 25 cents. It was a hot night and the burglars turned on the electric fan while they worked away on a large safe of the Mackenzie Real Estate company, which they could not open. The fan was left turned on, and the burglars also left their tools in the office.

SINGLE FUNERAL SERVICE FOR VETS

Carrollton, Ga., June 2.—(Special.)—On Sunday at the First Baptist church at Carrollton there occurred a very unusual funeral service. Two confederate veterans, Colonel J. L. Cobb and Professor Henry Brown, both former prominent citizens, were brought back to their old home for burial, and their caskets were placed side by side before the altar. The funeral sermon was preached by the Rev. Jesse M. Dodd, the minister in charge, after which Rev. W. W. Roop made a fine eulogy on both men.

Professor Brown lost a leg in battle. After the war he was graduated at Bowdoin college, and for years was a teacher in Carroll county.

Colonel Cobb studied law and practiced his profession with success for many years here and later in Atlanta.

Both, at the same hour, were laid to rest by kind friends and former neighbors. The U. D. C. and veterans of Camp McDaniels-Curtis attended, and Colonel Cobb, being a Mason, the Masonic fraternity rendered their impressive ceremonial at the grave.

11 1-2 CENTS IS BROUGHT BY PRISON FARM COTTON

Milledgeville, Ga., June 2.—(Special.)—Three hundred and thirty-five bales of cotton—last year's crop on the state farm—was auctioned off Saturday by R. L. Wall, a local warehouseman, representing the prison commission.

J. H. Eakes bought the round lot on the ground at 11¼ cents, for the Milstead Manufacturing company, of Conyers. The lot will bring a round $10,000.

Commissioners Davidson and Rainey and buyers from many points were present.

Fred Beers in Tampa.

Fred Beers, deputy clerk of the federal court, having charge of the bankruptcy division, who is now enjoying his first vacation in several years, is passing the time pleasantly at Tampa, Fla., according to messages he is sending to his Atlanta friends. Mr. Beers is accompanied by Mrs. Beers and Master Fred Beers, Jr. He will be absent from Atlanta for some time.

Colonel J. R. Smith No Longer "Colonel;" It's "Reverend" Now

Among Honors Showered on Old Guard Boston Papers Bestow New One on the Popular Georgian.

Georgians who know Colonel J. R. Smith as he has appeared for many years here as the successful business man and astute politician, whose ability in handling Governor Brown's campaign attracted the attention of the state toward him, will have to be prepared to give him a new title when he steps from the train on the return of the Old Guard from its northern trip.

This, at least, is the information gathered from the columns of The Boston Post, which devotes much space to the Georgians who spent Decoration day in Boston and took part in the services over the federal dead. In a picture of the Georgians which takes up four columns of the page, numbers of faces familiar in Atlanta are seen and the lines under the picture call attention to Colonel J. F. Burke, commander, and also to "The Reverend" J. R. Smith.

Whether the Boston newspaper men decided that Colonel Smith looked like a Georgia preacher and took the title for granted, or whether some of his comrades on the trip gave him that title as a joke on him, has not yet been explained in Atlanta, but at any rate the picture is in the Boston paper with the words, "The arrow on the right points to Rev. J. R. Smith."

The Boston papers gave a large amount of space to the Georgians, commending the mtor the trip, which follows their pre- mission of 24 years ago, and accounts are given of their part in the Decoration day exercises as the principal feature of the day.

In a special Memorial edition of another Boston paper, The Journal, another Atlantan is shown. This is Hon. W. B. Cummings, head of the fire department, who is pictured shaking hands with Sergeant W. B. Lucas, of Boston, and Honorable Artillery, of Boston.

The "Ancients" gave a sumptuous banquet to the Old Guard, at which Colonel Burke, Chief Cummings, C. P. Byrd, Peter F. Clarke and Henry Beerman, who made the memorable trip 24 years ago, were the chief guests and recipients of scores of toasts and congratulations.

The speakers representing the Georgians were Lieutenant John Davis, Sergeant Harrison Jones, Captain F. J. Coolidge and Edward Smith.

Particularly delightful social honors were paid to the women in the party with the Atlanta company and a long account is given in the Boston papers of an entertainment given in their honor by Captain and Mrs. J. Stearns Cushing at the Point Shirley club, one of the leading social organizations of the Massachusetts city.

J. K. ORR'S COMMITTEE FORMALLY DISBANDS

There was a formal aftermath of the recent Presbyterian assemblies in the city when the executive committee, of which J. K. Orr was chairman, met in the office of the chamber of commerce yesterday afternoon to finish up its work and formally to disband. A number of letters complimentary to the hospitality of Atlanta and the entertainment afforded by her people have been received from delegates in all parts of the country since the assemblies adjourned. It was found that the money collected was ample to defray expenses, and all the arrangements had worked out smoothly. Mr. Orr was given a vote of thanks for the efficient way in which he discharged his very responsible and burdensome duties as chairman.

Will Buy Georgia Marble.

W. J. Nolan, ex-mayor and business man of Tallapoosa, is in the city visiting his daughter, Mrs. H. T. Brooks, No. 274 Whitehall street. His visit is considered a business trip to the quarries to buy considerable Georgia marble and stone. Mr. Nolan decides that Georgia marble is best, after all.

SWANSON IS ELECTED SHERIFF OF COBB CO.

A special election for sheriff, held in Cobb county yesterday, resulted in the overwhelming election of W. E. Swanson, the present incumbent of the office, over William T. Hardage, one of the county commissioners. Mr. Swanson's majority is upward of 800 votes. He was appointed to succeed Sheriff S. B. Lindley, who died while in office. The election passed off quietly and a comparatively light vote was polled.

EXHIBIT AT TECH HIGH TOMORROW AFTERNOON

An interesting exhibit of what the boys are doing at Tech high school will be given at the school tomorrow afternoon between 12:30 and 2:30 o'clock. Specimens of the work finished in the several shops and drawing departments will be on exhibit. Boys will also be at work in the chemical laboratory, forge shop, wood shop, machinery and drawing rooms. The public is cordially invited to be present and view the work in progress and that already accomplished. Patrons of the school will be able to see just what the city is doing for their boys in the way of teaching them trades. All the boys of the eighth grade in the grammar schools, accompanied by their principals, will visit the Tech high school tomorrow.

It has taken much preparation to get up the exhibit, and it will be a revelation to all who go.

ATTRACTIVE SERVICES AT INMAN PARK CHURCH

One of the most attractive services held in Atlanta last Sunday was in the pretty little ivory-covered Candler memorial church in Inman Park. It was Children's day, and the auditorium was packed with parents, friends and members. Many not only attended this service because they wished to be entertained, but to assure Mrs. Harris, who is in charge of this commendable work, of their co-operation and appreciation of her efforts, which have been so beneficial to the Inman Park children.

The church was beautifully decorated with magnolia blooms and daisies, and with the bright faces of the many daintily dressed little girls and manly little boys who took part in the exercises, made it not only a beautiful picture, but a genuine pleasure to be one of the audience.

WOODMEN OF WORLD HONOR THEIR DEAD

Sunday, June 1, was the annual Decoration-Memorial day of the Woodmen of the World, and all the camps of this city gathered at their main hall, corner of Peachtree and Jenkins streets, where the procession was formed, headed by a band and two companies of the Uniform Rank, in command of Major M. R. Duffy, and marched thence to Oakland cemetery, where the graves of all members of the order were strewn with flowers during impressive ceremonies.

Judge W. A. Roane and C. H. Nelson delivered the principal memorial addresses. Newton Phillips, assistant state manager, was master of ceremonies.

Receiver Asked for Moore.

A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed with Deputy Clerk Hood, of the federal court, yesterday by R. Byron Moore, of Atlanta. The petitioner gives his liabilities at $564.42, with assets of $464.67. Shortly after the petition had been filed creditors presented a request for the appointment of a receiver, but no appointment had been made when the federal building was closed for the day.

PERMANENT EXHIBIT IS ALMOST IN SIGHT

M. M. Davies Declares It a Necessity to Teach Us to Patronize Home Industries.

Things are rapidly shaping themselves towards the attainment of an object which the chamber of commerce has had in view for some time, to wit, the installation of a permanent exhibit of Atlanta-made goods. The trip to Chattanooga last week opened the eyes of many members of the chamber to the value of such an exhibit, and there is little doubt that a suitable building will be secured in the near future and an exhibit installed.

Brooks Morgan, chairman of the exhibit committee, reports that the plans for the exhibit are rapidly developing and he has already several buildings in view that are centrally located and otherwise available.

What Mr. Davies Says.

As an example of what interest leading business men are taking in the exhibit here is what M. M. Davies, of the Foote & Davies company, had to say yesterday:

"The chamber of comerce has under consideration one of the most important projects in its history, the permanent manufacturers' exhibit. To start with, Atlanta needs more manufactories and she needs them badly, because they are what make a great city. But we don't know what kind we need, because we do not know what kind we have.

"The average Atlanta man knows almost nothing about the factories in our midst. And the manufacturers who are here realize that the famous 'Atlanta Spirit' is sadly lacking in one essential thing, and that is patronizing home industries; and one reason is the lack of knowledge—he doesn't know what is made here.

"Now the permanent exhibit would cure these two evils and what is nearly as important—it would constantly bring the manufacturers together, which means that we would soon have co-operation, which spells strength and influence.

"And last, but not least, it would be a tremendous incentive to the buyer out of Atlanta, and he could accomplish in a day what he cannot accomplish now in a week. These are just a few reasons which lie on the surface, but which, it seems to me, make the permanent exhibit a necessity. And if we decide to go into it, let's go at it right and get a building which both in location and size will be a credit to a city of twice our present size, because it will not be long before we will need it.

"Atlanta has never gone back on her optimists, but she is constantly getting her pessimists into embarrassing situations."

SOLD ENGAGEMENT RING TO SUPPORT HER BABY

Declaring that her husband, Frank K. Rader, had drunk and gambled his money away, and that she was forced to sell her engagement ring to support herself and 2-year-old boy, Dean Rader, Mrs. Lucile Dean Rader entered suit for divorce and custody of the child yesterday in superior court.

The petition states that Rader is now out of the state, and when last heard from was in Louisburg, W. Va. Mrs. Rader, in her suit filed by Attorneys H. B. Troutman and H. L. Graves, declares that her husband, who is an expert civil engineer, frequently spent his nights away from home, and that on November 5, 1912, while they were visiting his parents in West Virginia, he struck her, and she quit him. The date of their marriage is given as August 31, 1910.

ARMS ITCHED SO COULD NOT SLEEP

Started on Legs. Came All Over Body. Arms So Sore Could Hardly Work. Could Not Sleep. Cured by Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

Ledbetter, Tex.—"Three years ago itching started on my legs and it kept coming upwards to my body until it was all over my body. It began as little pimples which itched and burned so that I had to scratch. Then it broke out in little pimples on my arms and knees. They became larger and larger and began to suppurate until they were sores which you could not cover with your hand. My arms were so sore that I could hardly work. At night they itched and burned so that I could not sleep and it pained where my clothing irritated them.

"I tried different kinds of remedies, Cuticura Soap, letter cure and also a salve, but no good came from them. Then I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. After the first few treatments I felt relief and I kept on using them for one month. All my awful sores disappeared and I was entirely cured by Cuticura Soap and Ointment." (Signed) Julius Busch, Apr. 24, 1912.

Although the Cuticura Soap and Ointment are most successful in the treatment of affections of the skin, scalp, hair and hands, they are also most valuable for everyday use in the soiles, bash and nursery because they promote and maintain the health of the skin and hair from infancy to age. Cuticura Soap (25c.) and Cuticura Ointment (50c.) are sold everywhere. Sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

HUFF HELD GUILTY BY JUDGE GRUBB

Macon Mayor Declares Verdict Is What He Expected. Grubb to Confer With Felder Today.

Macon, Ga., June 2.—Colonel W. A. Huff, former mayor of Macon, and one time the city's wealthiest citizen, was today adjudged guilty of contempt of court by Judge W. T. Grubb, of the northern district of Alabama, presiding in the United States court here. Judge Emory Speer being disqualified.

Colonel Huff says:

"The verdict is what I expected. At the time I sent Judge Emory Speer those letters last summer I had a vague idea that I was committing contempt of court. However, I was not as familiar then as I am now with the law on contempt.

"I wrote those letters nicely, and simply for the purpose of telling Judge Speer, man to man, what I thought about him and the way he had handled my bankruptcy case. There was never any intention on my part to bring the judiciary into disrepute.

Having been found guilty by a tribunal, which I consider absolutely fair and impartial, I am satisfied with the decision, and will accept without a murmur whatever punishment may be meted out to me."

Judge Grubb will confer with Colonel Huff's counsel, Attorney General T. S. Felder, in Atlanta, tomorrow in regard to the sentence to be imposed.

Judge Grubb will probably come to Macon Thursday to pass sentence upon Colonel Huff.

May Not Distribute Letters.

As to whether or not Colonel Huff will distribute the 10,000 copies of the two letters, which he had published some time ago, is not known, the colonel being silent on that point. However, since he has been held to be in contempt for sending the letters to Judge Speer, it is hardly probably that he would put himself in the position of committing further contempt by giving the leters general circulation.

The news of the finding of Judge Grubb was eagerly devoured by Macon people, for it has been a long time since there has been a case here which has attracted so much general interest. There was no surprise over the finding of the court, for everybody seemed to be of the opinion that there was nothing left for the court to do but find the the aged ex-mayor guilty. There was one clause alone in the letter sent to Judge Speer which would have been sufficient to base a verdict of guilty and that clause was, "Your court lives to steal."

JOHN MAYFIELD'S HEIRS WANTED IN EL PASO

Something Important for Relations of Man Who Left Georgia for Texas in 1835.

There may be an estate of value waiting for the heirs of John F. Mayfield, a former resident of Franklin county, Georgia, who went to Texas some time in the thirties of the last century. It is believed in El Paso, Texas that these heirs may be found in this state.

A letter to The Constitution was received yesterday from W. D. Mayfield, of the Mayfield Building and Improvement company, of El Paso, which says:

"We are looking for the heirs of John F. Mayfield, who came from Franklin county, Georgia, to Texas between 1832 and 1835. The middle letter in his name may have been an E or a P instead of F. John's father's name was Phillip. He moved from Georgia to Alabama, and there died many years ago, according to the best information I can get. I am unable to get in communication with any of the heirs of John. He was not a close relation of mine. There is a matter of some interest to the close relatives of John in this state. There are Mayfields in Georgia, and I have thought you might reach some of John's close relations. Any assistance you can render a Georgia Mayfield ought to be appreciated by him."

THOMASVILLE WOMAN SLOWLY DYING FROM BICHLORIDE DOSE

Thomasville, Ga., June 2.—(Special.) suffering terribly from the effects of 22 grains of bichloride of mercury, taken with suicidal intent, Mrs. George King, a white woman here, has no chance, the doctors state, of recovery.

The poison was taken yesterday, and after about two hours a physician was summoned, who found the woman suffering terribly and vomiting blood. Antidotes were administered and ordered continued, but after the physician left the woman refused to keep up the treatment. Later she sent for another doctor, hoping to be relieved of pain.

She has been taken to the city hospital for treatment, but there seems no possibility for her recovery.

When asked her motive for taking poison Mrs. King said it was on account of domestic troubles and she has no desire to get well. She came to Thomasville some time ago with her 7-year-old daughter from Brinson, near Bainbridge, where she left her husband and one son. But little is known of her here.

A young man, a native of Indiana, full of life and energy and wholly devoted to his church work, Father Flavian has a happy faculty of entusing his audiences at all times and has recently been in great demand in church work. So it is that Father Jackson is elated over the presence of Father Flavian, and is sanguine of a large attendance at St. Anthony during the next nine days.

Father Flavian will preach twice each day during the novena, his first sermon coming tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock, to be followed by another at 8 o'clock in the evening—and so it will be each day of the novena a sermon at 8 in the morning and another at the same hour in the evening throughout the entire nine days. Non-Catholics as well as Catholics are welcome.

Beer Exposed to Light for 5 Minutes Becomes Undrinkable

This is not our statement, but the deliberate opinion of one of the most renowned scientists in the world. Read the entire statement:

"We have tested beers repeatedly, placing the bottles in the direct sunlight, and testing the same after one, two, three and five minutes exposure, found that the beer with three and five minutes exposure became undrinkable on account of the peculiar odor developed. The detrimental effect of light upon beer can be successfully counteracted by the employment of brown or dark colored glass bottles, and such bottles are, therefore, recommendable."—*Wahl-Henius Institute of Fermentology.

It is not enough that beer be brewed pure, it must be kept pure.

Many Americans prefer beer in a light bottle. Most brewers follow the course of least resistance.

Light starts decay even in pure beer. Dark glass gives the best protection against light. Schlitz is sold in Brown Bottles to protect its purity from the brewery to your glass.

THE FLY IN THE OINTMENT.

The desperate need of the situation has forced upon an unwilling council a solution of the crematory problem that will temporarily halt development in Atlanta in a great many other directions.

It is but fair to the council to say that it sought in every other way to protect the city's health and safeguard its honor without diverting from the June apportionment sheet the appropriations demanded for long-needed municipal improvements.

But no other immediate method offered. The city had reached an impasse. Council was confronted by the opportunity of leaving Atlanta at the mercy of death and disease or of suspending the general program of improvements. There was but one choice between these alternatives and council had no other alternative than to take it. The city's honor and health are safe, but at the cost of reversing Atlanta's traditional policy and substituting for progress the inevitable slogan of "marking time."

All must rejoice in the clearing of the issues involved in the crematory tangle, but all must regret the cost. Especially is it a cause for regret that this policy of paralysis upon which council was by vital exigency driven to enter might have been entirely avoided. It is the penalty that is paid for the unnecessary and wholly untimely appeal to the courts.

Health and honor could have been protected without setting back imperative improvements.

SENDING AUTOS ABROAD.

The German manufacturers of motor cars are reported to be seriously disturbed because of the invasion by low-priced automobiles from the United States. American factories can put out a good car at small price very much more easily than can the factories in Germany, and as a consequence sales of the American product have been steadily increasing within the past year or two. The phenomenon is not confined to Germany. Many of the other European countries have discovered the virtue of the low-priced American car. In fact, the manufacturers of this country have undoubtedly been more instrumental in introducing the automobile to the masses than those of any other nation.

Evolution in this branch of the automobile industry is a distinct tribute to the mechanical and commercial ability of America. It is probable that as a business proposition Europe first scored the successes that made the automobile a commercial invention. But progress in the way of perfecting machines, making them stable and certain of operation and, certainly, in cheapening their price, is all on the side of America. The result has been the creation here of an industry unique in the world from the standpoint of rapidity of building. For history will show no parallel to the quickness with which the auto, only a few years ago hailed as a tentative experiment, has now become a recognized part of the world's transportation equipment.

It is likely that for some time in the future America will hold supremacy in the field of small cars. England and France both manufacture the lower-priced auto, but it will not stand the rough road usage of the American creation. The latter is built especially to fit the catch-as-catch-can highways of this country. Any machine that can stand up on the average American road can be depended upon to last indefinitely on the splendid highways of the old world. That fact largely explains the popularity of the American small car abroad. Incidentally, it should convey a hint to those who are interested in the promotion of good roads on this side of the water. It is said that American cars last twice as long in Europe as in the United States. Therefore, it is half as cheap to own one. Why cannot we have in this country the type of road that makes for longevity in cars?

THE GROCERS' HALF-HOLIDAY.

Napoleon said an army travels on its belly. So do cities. Atlanta's victories and Atlanta's progress are inseparable from the host that will parade the streets tomorrow afternoon. These regiments of men and fleets of wagons and auto trucks, a living spectacle three miles in length, comprise the commissary of Atlanta. Its vanguard and its rear guard, its rank and file, are the feeders of Atlanta, members of the Retail Grocers and Butchers' association and allied occupations, and many more who are non-members. For the first summer in the city's history these men and boys who are behind every dinner table in Atlanta are to enjoy a weekly half-holiday. Beginning tomorrow at noon they will shut up shop at noon each succeeding Wednesday until the first day of September. They feel the event is sufficiently important in the city's life to warrant a monster parade. And they believe an exhibition of this unusual nature will indelibly impress upon the mind of the housewife the necessity of finishing her task of buying mid-week food supplies by 12 each Wednesday. So at 2 p. m. tomorrow afternoon employer and employee alike will mobilize at the state capitol and parade through the heart of the city out toward the northern fire limits and then disband to spend the remainder of the day in well-earned recreation. The household that forgets the shops will close for the day at noon will be "caught out" so far as the Wednesday supper and the Thursday breakfast are concerned.

We doubt if Atlanta recognizes the political and commercial importance of this class of her activities. Figures tell the story. Over 980 stores are interested in the movement. These enterprises pay rent at the rate of, on an average, $20 a month each, or in the neighborhood of $300,000 a year. Their wage roll each Saturday night reaches about $80,000. Their contribution to the horse and mule markets, the wagon and harness industries is the largest single one in Atlanta; their contribution to the auto and allied industries is proportionate. In the course of the year their business totals more than $20,000,000. They employ more men, and pay more insurance premiums than any other organization in the city. They muster almost 7,500 men of voting age.

In the ordinary course of events this tremendous percentage of Atlanta's energy and population would enjoy, and certainly earn, a half mid-week summer holiday along with the rest of the people. But the very importance of their calling has heretofore militated against their falling into the half holiday ranks. Saturday, morning and afternoon, is the "peak-load" market day of the week. Food is bought not only for the day itself, but for the large Sunday "feed" and also for Monday's breakfast. So Wednesday afternoon was agreed upon for the grocery man's half-holiday.

The movement culminates tomorrow afternoon in one of the most remarkable processions that has ever moved through the streets of Atlanta—the men behind the commissariat, the men who feed the people of Atlanta! The humblest and the most ultra housewife should co-operate with them. The city-at-large should join in a celebration that touches individually its myriad homes.

THE ASTOR INCREMENT.

To many persons who believe that the "unearned increment" will be an inevitable feature of our future tax system, the instance of the Astor house in New York city comes as unanswerable confirmation. Current press dispatches speak of the razing of the old building to make way for improvements. Seventy-six years ago, when the present structure was erected, the site was valued at $150,000. "Illustrating the marvelous realty appreciation of the neighborhood," the dispatch runs significantly, "the present value of the site for rebuilding purposes is estimated at $2,500,000."

In seven and a half decades here is an enhancement of many hundred per cent. Did toil or genius on part of the Astors make this enhancement, create out of blue sky these enormous values that, seventy-six years ago, were non-existent? They did not. What, then, did create these values? The answer is simple. The activities of the people of New York city. The fact that the Astor House was centrally located, that in the course of the year millions of people passed it to and fro, made the site valuable. If the site had been up in Harlem or out in the desert, it would have been an humble bit of land and no more. The presence and the energies of the millions of New York's inhabitants are what endow it with fabulous value.

The Astor House is only an instance, both in the fortune of that family and in the principles generally of the unearned increment. The Astors, it is traditionally known, have become wealthy because of the activities of other people! It is a rule of the house to buy often; to seldom or never sell. The estate buys a piece of real estate with cunning foresight, pays taxes—and lets the community do the rest.

Is it not fundamentally just that the people whose life work make these enormous enhancements possible should have at least a share of them? The advocates of the unearned increment tax think so. They point that the man who toils not nor spins, but reaps the rewards of those who do, should at least divide with the toilers a portion of the golden harvest.

And then there would be trouble—don't you have a doubt—
The goose cooked forever and the fire would be out!

Doubling Human Life.

In 1888 the public health conditions of New York were in so low a state that the average length of life of the inhabitants was thirty years. In 1912 these conditions had been improved so that the average length of life was sixty-six years. Thus the value of human life, reckoned in terms of time alone, had more than doubled in less than half a century.—Century Magazine.

Where Laughter Is Barred.

A man was arrested in a theater in Providence because of his excessive laughter. As no one complained, however, at the hearing that his laughter had disturbed anybody, he was discharged. His feelings being very much hurt at not being allowed to enjoy the show to the full extent of his appreciation, he has brought suit against the theater for $2,000 for false arrest. If he gains it he will still have the laugh on the house.—Baltimore American.

What in the world will the Colonel do with that six cents?

That Marquette editor has given the fraternity dead away by intimating that his "pile" was in the six-cent class.

It is the season when even a statesman is willing to throw dignity to the winds and take a "header" with the boys in "the old swimmin' hole."

A Story of the Moment

By WALT MASON,
The Famous Prose Poet

LIFE IS EXPENSE.

"The grocer's bill came in this morning," observed the retired merchant, "and after I had looked it over I had to sit down and fan myself and drink a lot of ice water. The high cost of living is a condition, sure enough, and not a theory. We don't live any better than our neighbors, yet the expense is twice as great as it used to be."

"Yes, and your doggone neighbors are saying the same thing," said the hotel-keeper. "They can't understand it at all, and they think congress ought to do something, but the fact is that a man can save about as much money now as he ever could. The trouble is that we all keep tab on our neighbors, and if we see the man next door carrying home a gallon can of ice cream, we don't waste a minute about sending for two gallons. Far be it from us to let any jim crow neighbor go around bragging that he had terrapin for dinner while we had to be satisfied with cheap roast beef.

"Early in the spring I was in Bodkin's grocery talking with him about groundhogs and things. He had some pale, anaemic strawberries that had been imported from Italy or Labrador or some far country. No man in his senses would want to eat such berries. They were priced at 35 cents a box. While we were talking, in came Judge Boneset, the richest lawyer in this part of the country. He looked at the strawberries as though hungry for them, but when he was told the price he passed them up. 'I wouldn't give that much for a box of berries from the Garden of Eden,' said he, and he was as wise as a serpent.

"He bought a can of sauerkraut and some other things and went away, and then young Bender came in. He is a clerk in the judge's office, and draws maybe twenty bones a week. He looked at those berries with a smile of rapture, and ordered two boxes. The grocer was a good sport, and told him the price, although he didn't ask about it. 'Hang the expense!' said he. 'I'll bet he and his wife spent the next day telling all their friends that they had strawberries for supper, and as I saw him talking pleasantly with the editor of The Weekly Palladium, I have no doubt he was trying to induce that gifted man to print the news on the first page.

"You can see such instances every day, and yet people talk about the high cost of living as though it were a curiosity, dog-gone them.

"You go to any butcher when you are sober and ask him what his chief grief is, and he will tell you that he is eating his heart out because beef cattle aren't composed entirely of porterhouse steak. He buys a carcase and his customers all want the choice cuts. They want porterhouse or sirloin. Nobody wants the legs or the horns or the neck. So he has to spend sleepless nights trying to figure out how to get rid of the cheaper parts of his cow, and finally he has to send them to an orphan asylum. You don't catch freeborn American citizens, whose fathers died at Bunker Hill, filling themselves with round steak or Irish stew. They eat the best the market affords and then lean back in their chairs and say that the cost of living is outrageous, and that a few of the beef barons should be rounded up and lynched. If there are sour apple trees to hang them to.

"In the old days an ordinary citizen didn't have garden sass on his table until his own garden produced it. Now he sits down with his rosy children about him, and eats asparagus from California, and new potatoes from Florida, and lettuce from Texas, and strawberries from Venezuela, and hothouse cucumbers from the jumping-off place. It costs like blitzen to ship these things from all the points of the compass, and the consumer has to pay the freight. And after paying it, and eating his expensive greens, he explains to his family that the country is in the grip of Wall street, which is why the salaried man has no chance. Don't talk to me about the high cost of living until you are willing to eat what your grandfather was glad to get."

Start today with—
Grit, Gristle, Gumption—these three!
Grit to "set" by, Grit to "steam up" to,
Grit to Start from—a great thing is Grit!
None can Do or Win without Grit. For Grit
Is determined Courage—baked brown.

Gristle to "hang to" by, Gristle to "stick" to, Gristle to "swing out" boldly from—a most necessary quality is homely, ordinary Gristle! For it keeps the bones of Giants fastly socketed—makes Conquerors of those who hobnob with Ambition. Gristle, then, being interpreted, is what the link is to the completed chain, the coupler to the massive car, the Sun to the astounding Solar System. Gristle holds compactly together the worthwhile things. Deeds Done result where a man has well-distributed Gristle in his system. Gristle is "sure-of-your-ground" power.

And lastly—Gumption to "grab" by, Gumption to "tie" to, Gumption to "find" by. Success from—big men have, shrunk from lack of Gumption! Gumption stays around when Grit is slipping away. Gumption smiles when Gristle weakens. Gumption is "horse sense"—Capacity to win—after men think you have failed.

Grit, Gristle, Gumption—these three! But the greatest of these is Gumption—Gristle—Grit!

Finish today with—
Grit, Gristle, Gumption—these three!

First Shakespeare Editions.

There appear to have been 500 copies of the Shakespeare first folio printed, of which about 200 are known to have survived. Of these, fewer than 20 are in a perfect state, while about 160 copies have sustained serious damage at various points. The value of the four early folio editions of Shakespeare is partly determined by their pedigrees. The duke of Leeds owns a first folio on which two former owners, Charles Killigrew and William Congreve, have inscribed their names. Garrick's first folio is in the library of Queen's college, Oxford. Sir Henry Irving possessed a second folio which had belonged successively to Lewis Thebald, the greatest of all Shakespeare's textual critics, Dr. Johnson and Samuel Ireland. In South Kensington museum there is a third folio adorned with a curious collection of autographs. At the top of the title page is the signature of Leigh Hunt, and on other portions are the signatures of Charles Dickens, Robert Browning, William Wordsworth, Charles Knight and George Henry Lewes.—London Chronicle.

The World's Mysteries

MYSTERIES of ROYALTY

WAS MAVIS THE "LITTLE DAUPHIN?"

There has been still another claimant to having been the "Little Dauphin" of France, aside from those already mentioned. He was an Englishman by adoption, named Mavis. It will be remembered that the Dauphin was the son of Louis XVI and Marie Antoinette, who was said to have died in the Temple, although this fact has never been definitely settled.

Regarding the claim of Mavis, one of the best authorities was Madame Tussand, the famous wax figure modeler. She always said that he was the same person as the "Little Dauphin," whom she had modeled before the death of his parents. When asked for her reason as to why she made the statement her reply was: "I would take my oath, for the Little Dauphin had a peculiar formation on the neck which still remains with the present claimant."

Mr. Jeremy, the active and highly intelligent magistrate who presided in the Court of Greenwich, and whose long experience added value to his judgment, was of the opinion that there was no traces of the impostor discovered by him during several scrutinizing examinations, which were held in his office of Mavis and that the members of the old French nobility, who were present, treated him with respect.

Mavis was supported through unknown channels, was twice shot at, and refused permission by the French government, though it was applied for by legal advocates of the highest standing, to bring the question before the legal tribunals.

At first the emperor of Russia and the King of Prussia, who knew that the Dauphin was alive, opposed the Duke of Wellington's proposal to reinstate Louis XVIII. The Empress Josephine is also said to have been aware that the Little Dauphin did not die in the Temple, and is reported to have said, "Ah! legitimacy is nearer than you suppose."

The story as told by Mavis to substantiate his claim is that the woman, who all her life had passed as his mother, told him on her deathbed that he was the Duke of Normandy, and that he had been confided to her charge and care, and that she was told to make her escapade with him by his true mother, Marie Antoinette, when that unfortunate queen eluded the murderous pursuit of her assailants in the furious attack made on the Tuileries on the tenth of August, 1792.

The person to whom Mavis related this story says that she was so impressed by the earnestness of the narrator and the air of truth thrown around his story, as she knew that doubts had been started as to the death of the Dauphin in the Temple, she offered—being then about to visit Edinburgh, which was at that time the residence of the exiled monarch Charles X and his ill-starred family—to be the bearer to them of any memorial or other document, which the claimants to the rights of Dauphin might wish to submit to that illustrious body.

A statement was then drawn up and sent by this person, then in Edinburgh, not to Charles X, but to her Royal Highness, the Duchess of Angouleme. She immediately replied requesting an interview with this person and noblemen or gentlemen of the household of the Duchess.

The bearer of the message was informed by this member of the household that her Royal Highness said such communications exceedingly distressed her, by recalling a dreadful period of her life. She said that there was no truth in them, and that her brother, the Duke of Normandy, died in the Temple.

The person who conveyed the message further added that in the interview she had with the "soidisant" Dauphin, he showed her various portraits of Louis XVI and then bade her look at his own features in every attitude and form, and say if the likeness was not most striking and remarkable. She said she could not deny it; and in truth was so impressed with his whole account that she began to look upon the humble individual before her with something of the reverence due to majesty shorn of its glories.

This Dauphin lived for a number of years after the incident related, never foregoing his claim, in spite of the fact that the sister of the Little Dauphin was sure that all the pretended Dauphins of France and Dukes of Normandy were impostors and not her brother.

MISSISSIPPI.

By Philip Weltner, Secretary Prison Association of Georgia

The following extracts are quoted from Mississippi's rule book:

"Youthful convicts shall be carefully kept away from hardened criminals.

"No sergeant will be permitted to administer more than fifteen lashes as punishment to a prisoner.

"The following time will be allowed and deducted from sentences, where no misconduct is reported:

| Years | Deduct Yearly days | Total Time |
|---|---|---|
| 1 | 36 | 36 |
| 2 | 45 | 81 |
| 3 | 60 | 141 |
| 4 | 90 | 231 |
| 5 | 120 | 351 |

"For each subsequent year 120 days are allowed."

Georgia.

There is no effort made to separate the youthful convict and first offender from the older and more hardened.

There is no limit to the number of lashes the camp captain may administer in punishing the convict.

Four days are given off of every month of the sentence as "good time."

Mississippi.

Belmont State Farm—3,000 acres; 125 convicts.

Oakley State Farm—3,000 acres; 200 convicts.

Rankin State Farm—3,000 acres; 135 convicts.

Parchman State Farm—17,000 acres; 1,300 convicts.

All the farms clear money for the state. The last made, in 1912, above expenses, $200,000.

Georgia.

The penitentiary system consists of county road camps. One hundred and thirty-two counties are at present working their quota of convicts. Whereas in Mississippi there is a centralized system of control, vested in penitentiary trustees, in Georgia the control is spread over one hundred and thirty-three sets of officials, only one of whom is the prison commission. Each county exercises a degree of authority entirely at variance with the intent of the penology act of 1908. Georgia's system is extravagant, wasteful and inefficient. In its inner life, every camp differs from every other camp. Two convicts, convicted of the same charge and sent to different camps, would experience different degrees of punishment. Georgia's system is not standardized. Although the convicts are to be employed on the roads, there is no way to check up the sort of work that is being done, there is no responsible authority at its head, and there is no expert highway engineer connected with the system.

"To the Gate City Guards."

(From The Boston Transcript.)

We bid you a welcome, brave sons of the nation;
Fraternal the spirit that unites us as one.
Inspiring the thought of a kindred relation—
Lo! the angel of peace has gloriously won.

As the sun sheds its rays o'er the hills and the meadows,
And nature rejoices in gem-golden light,
So the friendship of comrades dispels the dark shadows,
As the cloud, like a raven, wings away in swift flight.

You have come with the hearts of heroes, in meeting
With us to commune as we mourn for our dead;
The seraphs above bless this brotherly greeting,
As the wreath you lay on their earth-hallowed bed.

Glad welcome we give to the lovely companions,
Whose presence is ever like beams of the sun.
Our world is inspired by light of the fair ones,
Who ever applaud what brave men have done.

How grand is the thought that we all are united
In bonds that fast bind in oneness fraternal;
Again are the vows of affection here plighted
With comrades enrolled in the legions eternal.

A Mile With Me.

O who will walk a mile with me
Along life's merry way?
A comrade blithe and full of glee,
Who dares to laugh out loud and free,
And let his frolic fancy play,
Like a happy child, through the flowers gay
That fill the field and fringe the way
Where he walks a mile with me.

And who will walk a mile with me
Along life's weary way?
A friend whose heart has eyes to see
And stars shine out o'er the darkening lea,
And the quiet rest at the end of the day—
A friend who knows and dares to say,
The grave sweet words that cheer the way
Where he walks a mile with me.

With such a comrade, such a friend,
I fain would walk till Journey's end.
Through summer sunshine, winter rain,
And then?—Farewell, we shall meet again!

JUDGE IS BEATEN BY EDITOR NELSON

High Court Holds Judge Guthrie Violated Every Rule of Right in Holding Nelson.

Jefferson City, Mo., June 2.—The Missouri supreme court today discharged William R. Nelson, owner and editor of the Kansas City Star, from contempt of the Jackson county circuit court. The decision of the supreme court was unanimous.

The supreme court held the article published in the Star contemptuous, but ordered Mr. Nelson discharged from contempt, solely on the ground that Circuit Judge Guthrie prepared his opinion the night before the trial for contempt.

Violated Rule of Right.

Judge Woodson, who wrote the opinion, held that Mr. Nelson was condemned without testimony on the part of the accused. He also found that Judge Guthrie in preparing his finding the night before Mr. Nelson was haled into court, "violated a plain and fundamental rule of right and sought to deprive the prisoner of his rights without process of law."

The court further said:

"We are clearly of the opinion that the publication was not literally or substantially true, but is highly contemptuous to both the court and the judge thereof. The principal question presented by this record is, was the publication of the article contemptuous of division number one of said court and of the judge presiding therein.

"We are unanimously of the opinion that this question must be answered in the affirmative, and judging from the mode of trial pursued by counsel for petitioner (Colonel Nelson), they must have entertained the same conviction, for they were unwilling to let the article speak for itself, but introduced much evidence for the purpose of showing that no contempt was in fact intended, notwithstanding its scandalous charges."

A "Pretended Hearing."

Judge Woodson in elaborating on the trial of Mr. Nelson for contempt called it a "pretended hearing."

"I use the word 'pretended hearing' advisedly," says the opinion, "because no disinterested and unbiased mind can come to any other conclusion from reading the record but that the real trial took place on the night of January 31, and that the proceedings in the court the next morning were solely for the purpose of breathing life and validity into the unquickened and void judgment written the night before."

Concerning the attempt of attorneys for Mr. Nelson to show that no contempt was intended in the publication of the article in the Star, a point sustained by Commissioner C. C. Crow in making his report on the testimony to the supreme court, Judge Woodson said: "This is where our commissioner erred, for the reason that the meaning of the published article was clear and unambiguous upon its face."

Sketch of the Case.

William R. Nelson, editor and owner of the Kansas City Star, was found guilty of contempt of court and sentenced to imprisonment of one day in the county jail February 1 last by Circuit Judge Jesse E. Guthrie, who based his action upon the publication in Mr. Nelson's paper of an article which said that Judge Guthrie had refused to dismiss a divorce suit filed in his court until the parties to it, who had settled it out of court and asked dismissal, had paid their attorney's fees.

Mr. Nelson's attorneys saved the editor from jail by obtaining a writ of habeas corpus. The case was taken to the Kansas City court of appeals, and thence to the Missouri supreme court. C. C. Crow was appointed special commissioner to take testimony.

He reported to the court that he found nothing contemptuous in the article, for which Mr. Nelson was cited and recommended that the editor be discharged. The commissioner held that the article was "substantially true."

DEPARTMENT CHIEFS TO NAME ASSISTANTS

Council Gives Them the Privilege of Nominating Their Assistants.

Council yesterday adopted the Nutting ordinance, which clothes the chiefs of the various departments with the power to nominate and promote subordinates. The ordinance offered as a means of correcting just such situations as arose in the police board deadlock, was adopted without dissent.

The ordinance not only gives the chief of a department the power to make nominations, but it makes it compulsory that he do so.

It does not, however, prevent the members of the board from rejecting the nominations of the chief; but then the board can reject all nominations of the chief until he makes a nomination acceptable to them.

Alderman Nutting does not admit that his ordinance was framed with a view of correcting the police board situation.

"It has been my intention of offering an ordinance, but delayed it until the police board affairs reminded me," he said. "Now that it is a law there is no danger of such situations arising. It will help keep politics from the boards."

NEGRO SMALLS LOSES HIS COLLECTORSHIP

White Man Gets Beaufort Post Smalls Has Held for Fifteen Years.

Washington, June 2.—In a brief executive session tonight the senate confirmed the nomination of Franklin P. Colcock as collector of customs at Beaufort, S. C., to succeed Robert Smalls, a negro, who has held the office for more than fifteen years. Republican senators opposed Colcock's confirmation for several weeks contending that since the customs reorganization plan approved by President Taft would eliminate Smalls automatically on July 1 the appointment of a successor to serve such a short period would be a decided slap. They charged also that Smalls had incurred the enmity of southern democrats for service rendered to the northern army in the war.

The democrats, however, said they wanted Colcock's nomination confirmed because under the Taft plan the collector would have the authority to name the deputy who would continue in office at the sub-port of Beaufort after the change became effective. The fact that the republicans finally agreed to approval was taken tonight to indicate that many senators now believe that a serious attempt will be made to suspend or nullify the Taft order.

The nomination of Charles A. Woods, of South Carolina, as judge of the Fourth circuit, succeeding Senator Goff, was held up by republicans with an understanding that it would be voted on Thursday.

Cato Sells, of Texas, was confirmed as commissioner of the bureau of Indian affairs.

Dixon Heads Church.

The report of the clerk showed 102 new churches had been organized during the year, including five in England and others in Germany, Switzerland, Australia, New Zealand and Porto Rico.

HEROIC DEAD HONORED BY NORTH CAROLINA

Chapel Hill, N. C., June 2.—Those students who left the University of North Carolina during the year between the states were memorialized today when Governor Locke Craig presented for the state the monument erected in their honor.

Governor Craig described the entrance of Sherman's army and the prayer meetings held for protection by the desolate families, who had sent their sons to war never to return. "The university was consumed by the war," he said, "only one member of the class of 1865 graduating."

He said that every member, eighty-four, of the 1860 class went to the army without conscription, and that more than a fourth of the graduates of the war period died in battle. Describing the bronze statues he said a "new generation will read its meaning, and we dedicate the monument today as a covenant that we, too, will do our tasks with courage and fidelity."

GRAND JURY CALLS FOR THOS. FELDER

It late Monday evening did it become known that the formal summons to the characters in the recent sensational court room drama.

The fact that A. L. Colvar and G. C. Febuary, who, working for the detectives, arranged the meetings through which the dictagraph records were made, and that George Gentry, the young stenographer, who took the evidence in shorthand, have not been summoned appears to indicate that the grand jury will go into the matter from the statements of the men principally involved in it.

Detective Black has hitherto not appeared in the dictagraph case, either against Mayor Woodward or Attorney Felder, but his name was included among those for whom summons were issued.

Mrs. Formby Wanted.

Mrs. Formby, of whose whereabouts city detectives deny knowledge, is wanted by the grand jury, but for what purpose has not been disclosed.

What will be the action of the grand jury in the case is problematical. It is believed from the fact that summons have been issued to principals on both sides of the case that the intention is to investigate with a view to determining if a formal investigation of the charges hurled by each side is worth the time of the body.

Several of the men upon whom summons were served Monday night admitted, when faced with the direct question, that they had been ordered to appear. Among them were Chief Lanford, Jones and Attorney Hutcheson. Others refused to talk.

When questioned in regard to the matter Monday night, Solicitor Dorsey issued the following statement:

"I know nothing at all of the summons; as far as I am aware, the grand jury has been called to meet Tuesday by Mr. Beck, the foreman, for the purpose of undertaking the routine business of appointing the usual committees. If they are to take up any other business, I do not know of it.

"However," he added, "they are at liberty to take up anything they see fit, and that without advising me until they actually need my services."

Purpose of Meeting.

"I will tell you, as I have told every other reporter in the city, that the meeting Tuesday is for the purpose of appointig the committees which the press of criminal business has delayed," said Foreman Beck, when questioned as to the summons.

"I'm ready at any time they want to take the matter up," commented Attorney Felder, "and if they want me they can get me and they are well aware of that."

Solicitor Dorsey told me last week that he would take the matter up some time this week," stated Chief Beavers when asked in regard to the business to be taken up today. "Whether or not they are really going to take it up, I can't say."

LEONARD GROSSMAN WINS PRIZE DEBATE

Captures Douglas Medal for the Best Argument on Capital Punishment.

The Hamilton Douglas medal, which is awarded annually to the individual winner of the prize debate, was captured by Leonard J. Grossman last night in a close contest, which kept the audience up to a high pitch of enthusiasm. The winner was pressed for first honors, and all of the speakers were of prize winning caliber, according to Judge Lumpkin, who announced the decision and the award of the medal. The judges were J. H. Lumpkin, Thomas Connally and Edwin L. Turner.

The speakers were R. E. Lee Cone, J. R. McClelland, W. A. Hassell, Franklin S. Chalmers, Samuel M. Castleton, Pierce Burns, Brooks B. Patterson and Leonard J. Grossman. John M. Owens, president of the Atlanta Law School Debating society, presided over the debate, which was on the question, "Resolved, That capital punishment should be abolished." There was no decision of the judges as to which side won, the only award being to the best all-round debater.

Mr. Grossman, the winner, who is a member of the senior class, matriculated at the Atlanta Law school at the first of the year. He had previously prepared for the University of Chicago, and at the Chicago Kent College of Law, where he was president of his class of over 200 men. In 1905 he won the state championship in oratory at the University of Illinois, and the next year he won several interstate contests, one under the auspices of Beloit college, and one at the University of Chicago, where he won a $125 scholarship for public speaking. ## BRITISH POET LAUREATE DIES AT THE AGE OF 77

London, June 2.—Alfred Austin, British poet laureate, since 1896, died today at the age of 77.

Alfred Austin, besides being a poet, was a barrister, a critic, a novelist, a war correspondent and a political writer. He published his first poem anonymously at the age of 18, before he had taken his degree at London university. Although he was a lawyer, he never practiced that profession. He was a newspaper correspondent in Rome for many years, and he followed the operations of the Franco-Prussian war in 1870-71, with the headquarters of the Prussian king.

His writings were very patriotic. In one poem of recent date he called attention to the unpreparedness of the British army for war, and in another he eulogized the achievements of the British navy.

He met many of the prominent Americans who visited England, among them Theodore Roosevelt and Mark Twain, attending a dinner given to the latter by the late Whitelaw Reid in 1907.

In 1911 he issued his autobiography.

The greater part of his poetical work was published between the years 1881 and 1890, including "Savenarola," "Prince Lucifer" and "English Lyrics." The poet laureate died at his home, Swinford Old Manor, Ashford, Kent, where he had been ill for some time.

ATLANTA PREACHERS ASK PRISON REFORM

"Camps Should Be So Conducted as to Redeem and Not Punish Men."

In resolutions adopted Monday at the Evangelical ministers' meeting, Christian pastors throughout the state are called upon to visit the prisons and state convict camps and the members of the legislature are asked to revise the whole prison system of the state so that it may be transformed into an institution which, while deterring others from crime by the certainty of punishment, will tend to upbuild and restore to manhood those guilty of crime.

The resolutions were suggested following the recent claim of a prison evangelist that he was not allowed to visit the Fulton county prisoners except on Sunday, and that his efforts to convert them were discouraged by the officials.

The resolutions, as adopted, state that the object of a penitentiary or prison is declared to be, "that it is so handled that by suffering and hardship he is degraded and made more dangerous to society at the end of his term, regardless of the number of miles of roadway he may have constructed while in the camp."

The resolutions further declare that the convict camps and penal institutions of Georgia are not such as to redeem those committed to them, and that conditions in them cause untold suffering and degradation.

The ministers of Christ where He said, "I was in prison and ye visited me not," are called to the mind of the pastors in the act of the Evangelical ministers, who quote these words in their resolutions.

HARRISON-RAOUL WEDDING SOLEMNIZED AT FERNBANK

An ideal June wedding was that of Miss Courtenay Harrison and Mr. Loring Raoul, which took place at "Fernbank," the beautiful country home of the bride's parents, Colonel and Mrs. Z. D. Harrison, in Decatur.

The wedding party was assembled and the marriage was solemnized on the broad western terrace, just when the end of the day was merging into early evening. The fragrance of a wealth of June flowers floated on the twilight air, and the music of an orchestra, subdued by its distance at the other end of the long porch, made appropriate incident to the beauty of the ceremony.

The bridal party came down the broad hall stairs, which were arched over with bamboo, and passed to the veranda under another arch of Dorothy Perkins roses, framing the wide doorway. The pink ramblers trailed over the gray stone walls of the house, and great jardinieres of woodland ferns and flowers made a setting for the bridal group at the uncovered western end of the piazza. The trees in the mystic shadows of descending twilight were beyond.

The bride was attended by Miss Tinsley Harrison and Miss Eleanor Raoul, and the groom by Mr. Norman Raoul, the bride's brother. Rev. Hendree Harrison, of Jacksonville, Fla., was the minister officiating.

The bride was lovely in a girlish white gown of lace and chiffon, sprays of orange blossoms were caught in her tulle veil and her bouquet was of lilies of the valley.

The bridesmaids wore lavender chiffon, their flowers pink roses and valley lilies.

Mrs. Harrison wore an elegant toilet of gray crepe de chine and point lace. Mrs. William Green Raoul, the groom's mother, was gowned in black chiffon. Miss Emily Harrison, Miss Fanneal Harrison and Mrs. Michael Hoke, receiving with their mother, wore lacy lingerie gowns.

An informal reception was held after the ceremony, the wedding company including only relatives and a few close friends, and refreshments were served on the long porch and in the reception rooms.

The decorations everywhere were tall jardinieres of pink and white hollyhocks, cool green masses of fern from the woods around, and the gayest and sweetest of the woodland flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Raoul left during the evening for a wedding journey, and, returning, they will make their home at Cherokee farm, Mr. Raoul's home at Smyrna.

The bride is the youngest daughter in a group of charming sisters, all conspicuous both in the social life and the world of more serious activities, and she represents on both sides families than which there are none in the south better known.

Mr. Raoul is the son of the late Captain William Green Raoul, one of Atlanta's most prominent and constructive citizens, and he has a host of friends in social and business life to congratulate him.

COUNCIL AGREES TO PAY $260,000

the crematory will be ancient history. The guarantee carried in the old contract, which was invalidated by the supreme court, will hold good under the new agreement. The Destructor company, however, will be relieved of the cost of operation for three years. Attorney Spence estimated that it would cost $2,000 a year for an engineer.

Original Agreement.

Under the original contract the city agreed to pay $276,000. It carried an option to have an electric generating plant in connection with the incinerator. Alderman James R. Nutting offered a resolution Monday afternoon, urging that the city demand the right of option on the electric plant in the future. It will cost $100,000, according to Sales Manager W. E. Dowd, Jr.

The saving to the city on the outright purchase will be as follows: Discount on the contract price, $16,000; interest on deferred payments, $11,000; extra foundations and walls which city would have been forced to put in, $4,500, and $500 extras.

Atlanta Makes Sacrifices.

The city sacrifices these projects —all new improvements—by spending all its income to safeguard the lives of the people and sustain Atlanta's integrity:

Whitehall street regrading, $30,000; widening Peachtree street from Ellis street to Harris street, $5,000; purchasing Mosley place in Battle Hill for city park, $45,000; purchasing Dargan place in West End for city park, $7,500; building new English-Commercial school for girls, $75,000; building a new school in Eighth ward, $50,000; building new Davis street school, $50,000; repairing building to accommodate overflow from schools in ninth ward, $9,500; South Forsyth street regrading, $3,000; West Hunter street regrading, $3,500;

The city is getting a much better plant than called for in the specifications. Even Mayor Woodward admits it is a fine structure.

"If the city was to pay $276,000, the contract price, I still feel that it was in excess, but the precedent the court has established that the city must live within its income would be worth that price.

"I naturally rejoice in the victory I have gained through the supreme court, but I don't like to see special projects stopped. It seems to me that there should be more ways than one to settle the matter, and they wouldn't have gone beyond the constitution to do it.

Last Moral Obligation.

"I hope this will be the last of this moral obligation business. Atlanta can live on a cash basis, within its income, and not stand still. Suppose the finance committee had spent the income and the anticipated revenue last January, where would we be at now? We wouldn't have enough money to start buying the crematory. The city would have been forced to go out and borrow the money and pay interest on it.

"During my last term I was saddled with $300,000 of these moral obligations, and I wiped the slate clean before I went out of office. When I came in on the first of the year I found that I was saddled with $700,000 of the same kind of debts. I figure that I have made a good start wiping out $276,000 with one sweep. Let council get down to business now, and see what we can do on the income."

The sacrifice made in the matter of the crematory does not necessarily mean that the city is in bad shape, Chairman Humphrey refused to anticipate any future revenue when making up the January sheet, and as the result the city has some money to fall back on. Chairman Humphrey figures that all the money available for the June budget will be needed to meet the current expenses of the various departments.

He figures the present surplus to be $71,000.

What Departments Want.

The departments have asked for $152,211 to supply current expenses. The fire, police, park and hospital departments will be forced to get along on less.

The total amount of money required for new projects which are being urged is $299,000.

This makes a total of $451,211 which the finance committee has been asked to provide in the June budget.

Alderman John S. Candler, himself an ex-member of the supreme court, made a stirring speech on the floor of council Monday afternoon. He said that the decision of the supreme court makes it necessary for the city to operate on a cash basis. He made a strong appeal to council to ratify the agreement. Councilman Claude L. Ashley paid a tribute to council members for the sacrifices they made for the crematory, declaring with emphasis that aside from the moral issue involved in the dispute, it was imperative that the city acquire the crematory immediately in order to safeguard the lives of the people.

Alderman Candler and leaders of council are strongly advocating the necessity of a bond issue. Judge Candler is of the opinion that $1,500,000 will not be ample. Councilman Albert Thomson, who offered the resolution creating a committee to look into the advisability of a bond issue, will Thursday urge Mayor Pro Tem Warren to appoint the committee in order that no time be lost.

LEO FRANK'S COOK PUT UNDER ARREST

on the second floor will be made, it is rumored, by testimony showing that frequently employes cut their hands and fingers, allowing the blood to drip to the floor at the identical spots where the stains were discovered.

Conley remains at police headquarters. He has expressed a strong desire to face Frank with the confession. Chief Beavers Monday afternoon tried to communicate with Attorney Rosser with a view of getting the counsel's permission to confront his client with the negro and his story. Rosser was at the court house at the time and could not be reached.

The McKnight woman, who is now held at headquarters, is reported to have given important information to Solicitor Dorsey Monday morning. She was arrested just as she left the solicitor's office, where she has been subjected to a cross-examination. Dorsey will not divulge the nature of her testimony, but intimates that it is valuable.

While she was being questioned, the negress fell into hysterics, requiring several minutes to recover composure. She remained in the solicitor's presence for an hour or more, but will be questioned again today, this time by the police authorities and detectives. She is a young woman, apparently 20, and lives on Pulliam street.

At the monthly meeting of the Atlanta Hotel Men's association last night at the Georgian Terrace, representatives of the bankers of Atlanta were present and plans were set on foot to bring the 1914 convention of the American Bankers' association to Atlanta.

The American Bankers' association meets this year in Boston, in October, at which time, if the present plans materialize, an Atlanta delegation will be in Boston, Hub city to get the next meeting for Dixie.

A guarantee of 2,000 rooms is the first requisite to getting the bankers to come here, and a committee will get to work at once to find these accommodations.

Forrest Adair was present at last night's meeting and told the hotel men of the progress being made in regard to arrangements for the entertainment of the Shriners next year. According to Mr. Adair, the number of Shriners who will come to Atlanta will be even larger than was expected.

HAWTHORNE'S WRITING ATTRACTS ATTENTION

In the June number of "Good Words," the federal prison publication, the writings of Julian Hawthorne, son of the noted author, are once more creating widespread interest.

Mr. Hawthorne in this issue gives an analysis of the kinds of prisoners, dividing them into two classes. These classes are the "depraved and hopeless degenerate" and "men of brains and refinement."

Mr. Hawthorne makes the point that though men of brains and refinement who commit crime deserve severer punishment than the thug, these men are much more sensitive to punishment than the more brutal class. He points out that the tendency is toward humane treatment for all.

The gist of the real suffering of imprisonment for crime Mr. Hawthorne puts in the following words:

"It is an ancient truth that bodily imprisonment is an insignificant circumstance if the soul be free. Our real hardship consists in the fact that we were placed here by force, and as a punishment."

NEW PLAN PROPOSED FOR MONEY REFORM

Washington, June 2.—One of the plans suggested to members of the banking and currency committee of congress which will receive serious consideration before a definite program for currency reform is adopted, would eliminate the central reserve association proposed by the national monetary commission and the "central agency" favored by some democratic leaders, and substitute a "national reserve division" in the treasury department.

Under the commission's plan the central association would be largely in the hands of private persons, and under the democratic plan in the hands of a semi-official board, while the new suggestion comprises absolute authority in the treasury. By this scheme reserve agencies of the division would be established in each of the reserve cities which would receive and mobilize the reserves of national and other banks which are members of reserve associations, put out treasury gold notes accommodated, and make a market for prime commercial paper of such banks.

Gold certificates, greenbacks and national bank notes would be retired and a gigantic gold reserve built up to be used as a redemption fund for any notes issued by the treasury in carrying out the plan. Gold available would be about two billion dollars, a basis for twice that amount of treasury notes. One of the objections which the plan has met is that it would put the government in the banking business, but those who favor it point out that it is already in the business through the present bank system, its issue of currency and its control of national banks, and contend that government protection against panic would give stability to commerce.

47th Reunion of G. A. R.

Chattanooga, Tenn., June 2.—The forty-seventh annual reunion of the Grand Army of the Republic will be held in Chattanooga September 15 to 20, inclusive. This information was conveyed in a telegram late today from General Alfred B. Beers, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., to ex-Senator Newell Sanders, chairman of the local executive committee.

Squally Weather Ahead Predicts Mr. Von Herrmann

"Squally weather for the summer" is the unofficial prediction given out by the United States weather bureau, and for once the forecast, instead of being limited to the usual twenty-four hours, goes three months ahead. There is a perfectly good reason, however, for the forecast, in the arrival at the home of Section Director C. F. von Herrmann, of a new member of the family, who is known as Miss Evyline von Herrmann.

The little girl came a week ago, but Forecaster von Herrmann had kept the matter rather quietly to himself, despite the fact that he is as proud as any father that ever lived. Little Evyline is the second member of the von Herrmann family. Charles Frederick von Herrmann, Jr., is three years of age, and one of the healthiest specimens of babies that ever slept in an open-air bedroom, and his little sister bids fair to equal him in robustness.

The weather man is decidedly worried about the extreme hot weather of the past week, and it is certain that if he could determine the weather as well as he can foretell it, that Atlanta would have nothing but cool days and nights all summer long.

But the hot weather will come, and, according to the forecast for today, the temperature will be about the same, and possibly will be 2 degrees above the 88-degree mark of Monday. No showers or thunderstorms are in sight for Tuesday, although conditions point to a possible shower on Wednesday.

Parks Hall and Terrell Hall Names of G. N. & I. Buildings

Milledgeville, Ga., June 2.—(Special.)—The board of directors of the Georgia Normal and Industrial college has honored Marshall McTyre, the new president of the college, by naming the handsome new science building erected in 1911, "Parks science hall." This action was taken by the board on Saturday, but was kept secret and announced today when the graduating exercises of the largest class ever receiving diplomas in Georgia closed.

When Hon. T. E. Atkinson, president of the board, made the announcement, the greatest ovation ever seen in Milledgeville took place. The vast audience rising gave the chautauqua salute and the cheering lasted for a long period.

Miss Miriam Kirkland, president of senior class, arose and beautifully thanked the board for thus honoring President Parks.

Professor Parks, with much feeling, made a short speech of appreciation, after which he was kept busy an hour receiving the congratulations of his friends.

New Terrell Hall.

The board of directors, in recognition of the services of the late Governor Joseph M. Terrell, for the cause of agricultural and industrial education in Georgia and as an expression of appreciation of his love and devotion shown while he was living, and further indicated by his leaving a legacy in his will for this institution, resolved that the beautiful dormitory located on the eastern end of our campus should hereafter be called Terrell hall. Prolonged applause greeted this announcement, for it was generally known here the late Governor Terrell loved this Georgia school, and as that the board had long desired to do something in his honor.

Commencement Closes.

The twenty-second annual commencement exercises of the college were brought to a close today with the graduating exercises this morning and the exhibit of college work this afternoon.

The exercises this year, while marked by their simplicity, have been most interesting and complete in every detail. The commencement sermon was preached Sunday morning in the Methodist church by Bishop Warren A. Candler, and the discourse was heard by a big congregation. The main body of the church was filled to overflowing by the students, faculty and others connected with the college. In order to accommodate the large number of citizens of the town who attended the service, seats were placed outside the church under the trees, and these were all filled.

Bishop Candler preached Sunday evening in the Methodist church. Only the junior class of the college was present, thus leaving room for citizens of the town.

A reunion of the class of 1912 is being held. About forty members of the class are present, very enthusiastic over the work of the college. They will have a banquet tonight at the Baldwin hotel.

An exhibit of work done in the various departments of the college was held Monday afternoon. In the domestic arts and science departments the most beautiful displays of dresses, lingerie and hats are shown, and very interesting to the visitors are the products of culinary skill which are offered for their refreshment as well as inspection.

BRYAN'S PEACE PLAN ACCEPTED BY JAPAN

Washington, June 2.—Viscount Chinda, the ambassador from Japan, late today called upon Secretary Bryan with formal notification that Japan had accepted in principle the proposed plan advanced by the United States for universal peace.

Signatures of the treaty proposed in Mr. Bryan's plan would agree to refrain from hostilities for a period of at least nine months during which conflicting claims were under consideration by an international joint commission. In the case of Japan, as with the ten other nations that have received the proposal favorably, the response applies solely to the general principle involved, and none has committed itself to approval of any of the details of the project. Therefore, it may be many months before the negotiations with the convention which Mr. Bryan submitted to the various embassys and legations can be effected to a form which will receive their unqualified approval.

The statement by the Japanese ambassador that his government was prepared to give careful consideration to the peace proposal has no bearing whatever upon the negotiations now in progress between the two countries regarding the California alien-land legislation. During his call upon Mr. Bryan today the ambassador discussed this subject from various angles for half an hour, but without any definite result. The Japanese foreign office has not yet cabled the ambassador definite instructions regarding the submission of its rejoinder to the last American note, and it is known that it is contemplated an original investigation as a basis for its rejoinder.

REMOVAL OF WALDO URGED BY PROBERS

New York, June 2.—The removal of Rhinelander Waldo, commissioner of police, is recommended in a report of the Curran aldermanic committee, which for months has been investigating police conditions in the city. A paragraph of the report, which probably will be made public late today, says:

"The public interest requires the immediate removal of Commissioner Waldo. We realize the futility of making any such recommendation to the mayor of the city. The facts set forth were disclosed long ago at your public hearings. Nevertheless the mayor continues to approve and applaud the commissioner's administration.

"We therefore, recommend that the board of aldermen request the governor of the state to relieve the city of New York from a police commissioner who, by temperament and conduct, has shown himself unfit to occupy his office."

MACON OFFICER DROPS DEAD AFTER HARD RUN

Macon, Ga., June 2.—(Special.)—E. Avent, for six years a member of the Macon police force, dropped dead at 7 o'clock tonight at his home, 129 Highland avenue after sprinting from the street car to his home to avoid getting wet from the rain.

A blood vessel in his head is thought to have broken, causing his death. He was 50 years of age and enjoyed the unusual record of being on the same police beat for three years.

He was a brother of J. T. Avent, and also leaves a widow and two half-sisters, Miss Annie Avent, of Birmingham, and Mrs. W. H. Pryor, of Pennsylvania.

Murry to Study Indian Schools.

Washington, June 2.—Secretary Lane today appointed John F. Murray, of California, a special agent in the Indian service to study methods of instruction at Indian schools. Mr. Murray was superintendent of schools of the state of Colorado for several years, is a newspaper man and was secretary of the democratic state central committee of California.

NEW FEDERAL JUDGE SOUGHT FOR GEORGIA

Edwards Will Shortly Introduce Measure to Create Third Judicial District.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, June 2.—(Special.)—Representative Edwards will ask for the appointment of a new federal court judge in Georgia in a bill he will shortly introduce at the request of a committee of the leading lawyers of the Savannah bar.

While the program of the house leaders does not contemplate any legislation of the character at the present extra session, the bill will be given consideration in the judiciary committee, and if favorably acted upon will be reported out next December.

The committee of the Savannah bar which recently came to Washington to confer with the members of the Georgia delegation in congress have put their views in the shape of a bill.

It provides that the third district judge shall live in Savannah and hold court in the eastern division of the southern district. In urging its adoption they say an additional district judge in Georgia is absolutely necessary if the business of the United States courts is to be properly and promptly dispatched.

They show that there are five divisions in the northern district and five in the southern, making ten places were court must be held by two judges.

Admiralty practice in Savannah is greatly impeded and interfered with because the district judge lives in Macon, 200 miles away; by reason of being the largest naval stores port and second largest cotton port in the world, Savannah has much admiralty business.

While stating that it would be preferable to divide the state into three judicial districts, the committee maintains that this is now impracticable.

The Savannah bar, at a meeting on May 17, urged the following committee to press for favorable action by congress: S. B. Adams, P. W. Meldrim, W. W. Osborne, A. F. Wright, J. Ferris Cann, T. M. Cunningham, Jr., and A. A. Lawrence.

New Dissolution Plan.

Washington, June 2.—Attorney General McReynolds today received from the Union Pacific copies of its plans for dissolution of the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific merger. He will begin an analysis to determine the government's attitude. Mr. McReynolds said today he had not yet finally determined when or where the government's proposed suit under the Sherman anti-trust law, for the separation of the Central Pacific from the Southern Pacific, would be brought.

FIREMEN AND ENGINEERS MEET IN WASHINGTON

Washington, June 2.—The convention of the Brotherhood and Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen organized today and more than 900 delegates got down to work. Three important questions are to come up. The convention will be in session twenty-eight days.

Selection of a city for permanent headquarters and convention place probably will be the first important question. Several cities are making an effort to have headquarters changed.

Another subject to be settled is consolidating the brotherhood with the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Changes in the constitution and by-laws probably also will be made with the selection of a city for the 1916 convention. So far Denver, Oakland and Houston are the only cities in the field.

No game was played at Nashville Monday. And a big squabble is the result. There will be a game today. Whether there will be one Wednesday or not is problematical.

:: Vols and Crackers in a Row ::

EDITED BY Dick Jemison

WHIFFS

In the Right.

BILL SMITH was right in insisting on the playing of the game Monday at Nashville. President Kavanaugh ought to uphold Smith in his contention. Bill went ahead and arranged a game for Atlanta on Wednesday, and if he is made to play the games in Nashville Tuesday and Wednesday, the local club will lose considerable money on the deal. Looks like "Alibi" Hirsig delights in mixing up the Crackers. Maybe he is trying to get even for the Welchonce deal.

It Was Coming.

THE PURCHASE of Pitcher Conzelman is just the first of a series of changes in the Atlanta pitching staff that have been expected for some time. By the time the team returns home, there may be some other new twirlers on the string. Billy Smith is determined to be right in the pennant hunt and the club is willing to back him up financially.

Run Detail Today.

CALLER KING will run his detail this afternoon on the Nashville-Atlanta game. And if there is a game at Nashville Wednesday, which at the present writing is doubtful, he will also call that.

Just in Slump.

CAP WHITEY is in one of the worst slumps of his career. But it will not last long. Whitey is too good a ball player to continue long without hits. The Crackers' most reliable hitter in the pinches, his failure to bang them safely for the past two weeks has hurt immeasureably. Had Whitey been slamming them in his old-time form during the past home stay, even bad pitching and poor fielding would have cut no figure. Here's hoping he gets out of the slump today.

Is Encouraging.

PAUL MUSSER'S return to form is one of the most encouraging things that has greeted local fans in the present season of adversity. Even if he did lose the game in Nashville Sunday, he pitched ball that will win nine games in ten and a continuance of such form will help immensely. Dent is a winner. Price has been, Brady can be, and if Chappelle shows the form that Bill Smith expects of him everything will be rosy.

Surprised All.

TOMMY LONG'S hitting has been the one big surprise of the season and a pleasant one. Rabbit surprised all the wiseacres. He may do more than that. He may hit more than any batting leader in the Southern league history, as he has been boosting his average lately instead of slumping. Personally, we hope he hits .500, and we are sure we express the sentiment of all the fans.

Great Tourney.

THE TWELFTH Annual Southern Golf Tournament, which begins at Montgomery today, with the qualifying round, promises to surpass all its predecessors. Of the eleven previous tournament winners and low medalists, nine of them are going to be on hand for the big event. Players from all the leading cities of the south will attend, and it is estimated that in the neighborhood of 250 golfers will tee off from the first tee today.

After Twirler.

JOHN M'GRAW intends to fortify himself for the hard pennant race if strengthening can do it. The peppery Giant leader has seen the light. His recent effort to strengthen was in offering Snodgrass and Fromme to the Boston Doves for Tyler. Of course, Stallings turned him down. Barring Rucker, Tyler is as good a left-hander as there is in the business.

Not Likely.

IF DETROIT trades Ty Cobb to Chicago, according to a story printed elsewhere on this page, they will not only surprise every one, but will throw themselves open to the ridicule of the baseball public. If it was our ball club, we would not give Ty Cobb for four Hal Chases, and we would not give him up no matter what the cash to boot. We'll believe this yarn when the trade is actually consummated.

Billy Smith Claims Monday's Game When Schwartz Refuses To Play; Nice Row Is Now On

By Paul W. Treanor.

Nashville, Tenn., June 2.—(Special.) The Crackers won a game from the Vols today by Gilbert Price only tossing three balls across the plate, when Joe Dunn, vested with impartial authority, decided the affair forfeited to the Crackers, 9 to 0, for the very good reason that the Schwartzmen failed to put in appearance.

The milk in the cocoanut of the whole affair is simply that once more Billy Smith caught the wise Mr. Hirsig asleep at the switch and put one over, providing that Mr. Hirsig cares little for the well-known adage about burnt children giving the fireplace a wide berth. Some folks had an idea that Hirsig would keep alive after the Crackers had slipped one over on the Welchonce deal, but Hirsig is out with his ever-ready alibi. When the matter of the game was put up to Smith, the league schedule called for the Crackers to play the Vols on June 2, 3 and 4, but Hirsig told Smith that a big crowd would turn out on the Sabbath, so Billy was very willing to move the game up a day.

Hirsig's Letter.

Here's what Hirsig wrote the Crackers' Manager:

"May 26, 1913—Mr. William Smith, Manager Atlanta Ball Club, Atlanta: Dear Sir—Received your letter in reference to your playing here next Sunday, and beg advise that we are making arrangements accordingly. We will have our schedule ready June 1, 2 and 3, but I think really it would be best to play on 3d and 4th. However, it might rain on one of these days. We will have all of the week and can easily arrange this after you arrive here. Yours truly,

"WILLIAM HIRSIG, President."

It was "easily arranged" nevertheless, for Schwartz, Hirsig and Smith wrangled for almost one hour before the game Sunday, the Nashville moguls holding out for the Tuesday and Wednesday dates, and Smith insisting on Hirsig's agreement to play Monday and Tuesday, Billy pointing out that the Crackers must hustle back home to play Montgomery at Ponce de Leon on Wednesday, and no agreement ever was reached.

Hirsig gave it out to the press that Monday would be an off-day, but the scrappy, determined Cracker leader was not to be run over roughshod in any such manner. But to get himself right before he made a move he wired President Kavanaugh acquainting him with the facts and asking him what he should do. Kavanaugh answered.

Kavanaugh's Wire.

"Little Rock, June 1, 1913—William Smith, Manager Atlanta Baseball Club, Duncan Hotel, Nashville, Tenn.: Original schedule calls for games June 2, 3 and 4. If any changes in schedule were made it was done without notice to this office. However, had I been consulted, I would have consented to any changes upon which the two clubs had agreed to. Show this to umpires and Hirsig, and say to them that games must be played according to agreement, between you and them, whatever it was.

"WILLIAM K. KAVANAUGH."

Smith carried the wire to Hirsig, but two such hot heads as this pair could not reach any understanding, and Billy declared afterwards that "Rather than have a fight," he left Hirsig's offices.

He carried his ball tossers to Sulphur Dell, but the ground keeper denied them admission, and the Crackers' chief resorted to a little piece of foxy work to get inside. "We just want to go in and get our bath." He very humbly told the dusky caretaker, and was opening the gate a little wider. It was easy for the brawny Joe Dunn, "Bell Cord" Bill Chappelle and Billy Smith to rush the rheumatic old negro.

Once inside the rest was easy, for Billy Smith appointed Joe Dunn umpire and with the Crackers taking their places in the fields, Gilbert Price lobbed over three to Chapman, while Joe dramatically declared the Vols defeated, 9 to 0.

Dunn Umpires.

He claims that in the absence of the umpire, the manager of the club has the right to appoint an umpire and his contention seems to be a good one, but the awful mess will in all probability have to be threshed out by President Kavanaugh, and it will take the judgment of Solomon to straighten the thing out.

On the face of it, it looks as if Hirsig had slipped up again, for his letter very plainly states that the two clubs would play Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, and, as for his suggestion, it isn't worth a hill of beans, if it was never acted on and even Hirsig has not the effontry to claim that.

Hirsig is very bitter against Billy Smith, declaring that he should be drummed out of baseball, and was a detriment to the game, and a lot of rot like that, but such small bore talk is characteristic of the Vols' president, and carries little weight with the fans in Nashville, who regard Hirsig as a nuisance they are compelled to tolerate.

The umpires, Wright and Rudderham, are nowhere to be found, and no statement can be obtained as to their views of the affair.

Today's Batteries.

The two teams will play Tuesday, Beck working for the Vols, while Brady will be on the slab for the Crackers, with Gibson and Chapman at the receiving end. Billy Smith had a long distance telephone conversation with President Calloway and the Crackers' mogul told Billy to come home Tuesday night. Tickets and reservations have been secured by the Atlanta club, and on Wednesday, Hirsig claims he will send Schwartz to the Dell and Eddie Noyes as umpire and will declare that game forfeited to the Vols.

GOLFERS GATHER AT MONTGOMERY

Twelfth Annual Southern Golf Association Tournament Opens Today With Classy Entry List.

Montgomery, Ala., June 2.—Expert golfers representing almost every state in the south, some 178 players being on the links today, spent the first day testing out what has proven to the experts the fastest course in the south, and many exceptional scores were turned in cards of 72, 74 and 80 being numerous. Several of the lesser known players turned in lower scores than Champion J. P. Edington, of Memphis, who was on the links both morning and afternoon, his score being 43 out of 28 in, a total of 82. He begins tomorrow morning defending his title against the champions from other cities.

During the day a record was established on the links, when Barker, a professional of Birmingham, made the first hole in three, the first time such score has ever been made here.

Among the noticeable scores turned in were: M. J. Condon, of Memphis, 37 and 43, total 80; W. Nash Read, local, 79, his third successive day with a score ranging within five of Champion Edrington, 82. The players looked on as strong contenders in the tournament commencing tomorrow are, Nelson Whitney, New Orleans; Ellis Knewles, Pensacola, Jacobi and Munger, Dallas; George Adair and Reynolds Tichenor, Atlanta.

Tomorrow morning the qualifying round of 18 holes, medal play, will be played. The six players turning in the lowest scores will qualify for the championship division, and the thirty-two players turning in the next lowest scores will qualify in the second division. The team match will also be played tomorrow. The championship division, 18 holes, match play, will be on Wednesday morning, and the same afternoon the championship flight, third flight and fifth flight will be played. On Thursday the defeated players will go into the second flight, fourth flight and sixth flight. Finals will be played Saturday.

AMERICAN.

Red Sox Win Two.

New York, June 2.—The New York Americus continued their long list of local reverses today when they dropped two games to Boston by scores of 4 to 3 and 8 to 6. In the second game, Manager Chance, in an effort to break the local club's hoodoo, asked that his team be permitted to bat first, but it failed to work. The loss of today's double-header makes the New York club's record nine straight defeats—thirteen straight defeats on the Polo grounds this season, and eighteen straight defeats in New York to Boston. The Yankees have not won from Boston in New York since 1911.

Pitcher Conzelman Bought From the Pittsburg Pirates; Will Report on Wednesday

President Frank E. Callaway, of the Atlanta Baseball association, announced late last night that the deal that has been pending for Pitcher Conzelman, of the Pittsburg Pirates, was finally closed.

The local club tried to purchase Conzelman's services outright, but Barney Dreyfuss would only let the Crackers have him under optional agreement.

Confirming the deal, President Dreyfuss, of the Pittsburg club, wired last night that Conzelman would report to the Crackers on Wednesday.

Shortshop Bisland, of the local team, touted off Conzelman so highly that the local moguls took his tip and tried to purchase him outright. Dreyfuss, in his letter to the local club, expresses the firm conviction that Conzelman will make the Crackers a winning twirler.

This is not the only change that may take place in the ranks of the Cracker hurlers by the time the team returns home. An offer of a good hurler from another big league club has been received at local headquarters, and all the data ont he case forwarded to Manager Smith at Nashville. A South Atlantic league pitcher may also be landed.

The names of these two twirlers are being kept quiet until the deals are consummated, so as not to give any of the other teams that may be looking for good hurlers a chance to land them ahead of the Crackers.

Billikens and Crackers May Play Here Wednesday For Grocers' Amusement

In all probability a game will be played at Ponce de Leon Wednesday afternoon. The postponed game between the Crackers and the Billikens of last Saturday may be played off on that day.

Wednesday will be a general half holiday for the grocers of the city, and the baseball club is endeavoring to arrange this game to give them a game to attend on that day if they so desire.

New Orleans is scheduled to play in Montgomery on that date, but advices are expected from President Jones, of the Montgomery club, announcing a switc in dates between the Pels and the Billies so Dobbs' men can come here.

This is the reason that Manager Smith insisted on the game in Nashville yesterday, and he is sticking to his original decision to return here Wednesday morning in time for the game.

The Vols agreed to playing the games Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, giving the Crackers the off day Wednesday. The change, made without Manager Smith's consent, will make a mix-up that will effect two other clubs besides Nashville and Atlanta.

MISS LILLIAN HYDE MAKES NEW RECORD

Glen Cove, L. I., June 2.—Cleverly outplaying a field of fifty-seven golfers over the reconstructed links of the Nassau County club here today, Miss Lillian B. Hyde, of West Brock, made a new woman's record of 82 for the course and won the medal in the qualifying round of 18 holes for the Women's Metropolitan Golf championship. Three years ago Miss Hyde won the Metropolitan at Mount Claire and repeated in 1911 at Scarsdale. Last year she did not compete. Miss Georgianna M. Bishop, of Brocklawn, Conn., twice winner of the title and a former national champion, returned a card of 88. Miss Marion Hollins, of West Brock, runner up last year, played consistently for a 92, and on the draw of the first match play round tomorrow she will meet Miss Hyde.

Queries Answered.

Under this head, the sporting editor will endeavor to answer all questions pertaining to all branches of sports.

Dick Jemison, Sporting Editor The Constitution: Is Cy Young a right or left-hander? (2) Did he ever pitch a league game left-handed?—W. L. M.

(1) He's a right-hander. (2) No.

Dick Jemison, Sporting Editor The Constitution: Batter hits ground ball to third. The third baseman picks up the ball, steps on third and throws to catcher. The catcher steps on the plate, but does not tag the runner coming in from third. Is the runner safe?—J. T. B.

Yes, the runner is safe, as when the third baseman touched third base, the man on third going to home was not forced home, and therefore he had to be tagged out to be retired.

Dick Jemison, Sporting Editor The Constitution: (1) If a batsman goes to bat five times and walks twice and sacrifices once, how many times does he get credit for being at bat? (2) If a batsman sacrifices twice does he get credit for being at bat those times? (3) If a batsman goes to bat three times and walks three times, in the at bat column how many times does he get credit for being at bat?—S. B.

(1) He gets credit for being at bat twice. (2) No. (3) None. When a batter gets a base on balls, makes a sacrifice hit or is hit by a pitched ball he does not get credit for being at bat.

TIGERS MAY TRADE COBB FOR CHASE

Chicago Paper Carries Story to That Effect—The Story Is Said to Be Authentic One.

Chicago, June 2.—The Evening Post today printed an interview with an unnamed man "closely identified with American league affairs," in which the statement is made that the Detroit and Chicago clubs are arrnging a trade involving Ty Cobb and Hal Chase. Confirmation of the report was lacking here and in Detroit.

Nevertheless, the Post's informant asserts that the story is not as absurd as it may appear on its face. He says Detroit's need of a first baseman, the effect on the other players of Cobb's "holding out" at the beginning of the season, and the large salary demanded by the famous Georgian are arguments for the reason for parting with him.

The Chicago team got Chase from New York esterday by exchanging First Baseman Borton and Utility Infielder Zelder for him.

Rubbish, Says Navin.

Detroit, Mich., June 2.—"Absolutely nothing to it," said Frank J. Navin, president of the Detroit American League club, when he learned this afternoon of the Chicago rumor concerning a trade involving Ty Cobb and Hal Chase.

"The idea of such a trade is so silly that there is no use discussing it." Mr. Navin added that he is not considering any other trade with the Chicago club at present.

ATLANTA DIVISION NOW CLASSED "C"

Very Best of Service Will Result From Change, Says National Auditor Railway Mail Association.

After a lengthy conference with Postmaster General Burleson, which ended in Washintgon last Saturday, John Hogan, national auditor of the Railway Mail association, returned to Atlanta yesterday with the news that the Atlanta-Montgomery division, one of the most important links in the mail service between New York and San Francisco, is now classed as "C."

Accompanied by H. G. Swanson, one of the committee of five appointed to represent the division at the conference, Mr. Hogan sought the assistance of Senator Hoke Smith and Representative William Schley Howard. P. J. Schardt, president of the Railway Mail association, was also a party to the conference.

"The Georgia senator and representative were exceedingly anxious in behalf of the line, and it was mainly through their efforts that we succeeded in getting the line promoted." Mr. Hogan said Monday.

"From the various conferences we had with the postoffice department it is apparent that the postmaster general is disposed to immediately correct conditions. The reclassification of the Atlanta-Montgomery line will result in the line running again to New Orleans. Then we will have the very best service. The service will never be ample until the line is run through. The department wants to correct the service that was demoralized by the economy system of the Hitchcock administration. The working conditions of the men of the service will be better, and the change will be welcomed all around."

The Atlanta-Montgomery line is one of the most important links in the connecting chain of the service in the south. It is the only through line to New Orleans, and serves a tremendous territory. The line was the only one in the south left in class "B," and as the result the service was so badly crippled that it will take months to correct.

The committee was in session nearly a week, according to Mr. Hogan. Eleven congressmen and four senators supported the contention that the line should be classed "C" in the service.

PERRYMAN IS SENT TO ROANOKE CLUB

Giants Farm Out Emory College Pitcher—McGraw Keeps String Attached.

Emory College, Oxford, Ga., June 2.—(Special.)—Key Perryman, the elongated preacher-pitcher of Emory college, who was placed upon the ineligible list by the national commission, for failing to report to Manager McGraw, of the New York Giants, has been reinstated and farmed to Roanoke, of the Virginia league.

Perryman received a telegram this morning from the Roanoke manager urging him to report as soon as Emory closed and instructing him to get thorough work-outs every day. Roanoke is leading the Virginia league, and as Perryman has been the sensation of this league for the past two years, he will no doubt have a banner season.

In a personal letter from Manager McGraw, Perryman was told that although he was to play with Roanoke this season that the New York mogul had tied a string to him sufficiently strong to yank him into the big circle at any time that he is needed.

The Emory cohorts are banking on Perryman's ability to make good and are counting on him being the sensation of the Virginia circuit this season. Perryman is 6 feet 2 inches tall, and tips the beam at 190 pounds—the ideal build for a pitcher.

THEATERS.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

If you pay a visit to the Forsyth this week the chances are very much in favor of a second trip before Saturday has rolled round, for there are several acts of the kind that call for encores.

The bill starts off lively from the start, and hits the high notes in the second act. People who are so unfortunate as to come too late to see Wright and Dietrich will soon know how unlucky they were, for their neighbors who were among those present on time will see that they are informed.

The act offers a man with a good, strong voice and a woman who combines the art of dressing and the talent of singing with the fortune of personality, which is after all the greatest of all stage requisites. The answer comes in the shape of encore after encore.

Of course, Lillian Shaw makes good from the start. She has played in Atlanta in every house used for vaudeville since the Wells interests took control, and ever since she made her hit on her first appearance here in "Sadie Salome," she has been among those who receive a hearty welcome from Atlanta theatergoers. This year she has added a song or two, the first a baseball number going exceptionally well.

Jack Hazard strolls out on the stage, looks the audience over nonchalantly, and then begins to tell stories new and old. Hazard was going rather slowly on Monday afternoon until he switched into the adventures of the Bibulous Mr. Smith. Somehow Mr. Smith caught the fancy of the crowd, and from that moment on Mr. Hazard and Mr. Smith formed a partnership which was ringing the bell at every shot.

Seldom's models, portraying famous marble groups pleased. The actors are two men and one woman. All the numbers were exceedingly well presented. "Reverie" seemed to make the greatest hit.

Ward and Curran are the laugh-makers of the bill. Ward has been here several times before and has been a feature of every bill. This year, in an act never before seen here, he causes many a laugh. At times the act drags a bit, but the most of the time it is a scream.

Cates Brothers open in a dancing number, and the "Three Alexs" close with a good gymnastic offering.

Charleston, S. C., June 2.—The opening game of the series with Columbus today was called at the end of the eighth inning on account of darkness, with the score tied, 2 to 2. A slight drizzling rain fell throughout the contest. The exhibition was featured by many spectacular plays, catches by Weir and Felmar, the two opposing left fielders, being great. Work on the re-erection of the grand stand which burned down Saturday, started today.

Needham's successor has not been named yet, and Catcher Menefee refused to accept the management. Kipp captained the team today.

Peaches 3, Scouts 2.

Macon, Ga., June 2.—Prysock's home run smash over the left field fence in the ninth inning with Munn on base, ended a gruelling pitchers' battle between the two midget pitchers of the South Atlantic league, Martin and Horton, today, Macon winning the game, 3 to 2.

Munn's home run in the second inning had given Martin the edge, and both pitchers had opposing batsmen completely baffled until the seventh, when Melchoir doubled and went to third on Hoffman's single. Reynolds dropped the ball on a pretty throw to prevent a double steal and Melchoir scored.

In the ninth Melchoir tripled and scored on Carroll's single. In Macon's half, with dust driving across the diamond, Baumgardner singled, was forced at second by Munn who trotted in ahead of Prysock when the latter found Horten for a four-bagger and the game.

Albany, Ga., June 2.—Albany and Savannah played twelve innings to a tie here this afternoon, 6 to 6. Balls that should have been fielded went for hits off McManus in the sixth inning. Poole was relieved in the eighth by Robertson, who fanned nine out of thirteen men up. The feature of the game was the playing of Durmeyer at short. Savannah got only one man to first after the seventh, and no Albany player reached first after the eighth.

NEWSPAPER DAY AT MOTORDROME

Exhibition Races Today—Officials Selected—Track Will Be Completed This Afternoon—Events Decided On.

Jack Prince's Motordrome is so nearly finished it would take an expert to tellthat it wasn't.

They worked the whole gang yesterday from daylight to dark and made real progress. The infield has been practically leveled, and it is now possible to see every inch of the track from every seat and from every inch of standing room around the arena.

Final plans for the opening night have practically been completed. With Wedemeyer's full band on duty in the bandstand, and with lights blazing, flags flying and aerial bombs exploding, the start will be made. As a preliminary all the riders will be introduced, one at a time. Each man, after he is introduced, will ride a mile, and though no attempt to set records will be made then, the drivers will go full tilt. The last man introduced will be Atlanta's greatest favorite, "Smiling Harry" Glenn. Then the band will hit up "Dixie" and the meet will be on.

At least ten races will be run. There will be three heats at a mile, with a 5-mile final. Then there will be three heats at 3 miles and a 5-mile final. After that a match race will be arranged between Harry Glenn and some local rider. And the concluding number will be a consolation, in which most of the riders at the track will take part in a grand helter-skelter performance.

The final arrangement of officials has been decided upon, as follows:

Noon Hudson, manager of the track and starter; A. H. Cooledge, official E. A. M. referee; Gus Sisson, timer; Gus Castle, head scorer; Erskine Brewster, announcer; A. C. Lamkin, master of the paddock; Dr. Herbert J. Rosenberg, track physician.

A hospital tent will be pitched where the Red Cross flag will fly, and where any emergency repairs will be made on any of the riders who mix up in an accident. This will be in charge of Dr. Rosenberg. He will have a staff of trained nurses in attendance, and enough hospital equipment to patch up any ordinary breaks or bruises. A stretcher force will be on duty constantly, and if any of the riders are hurt it will be possible to give them practically instantaneous attention.

Final plans have been made for the special newspaper men's meet Tuesday afternoon, beginning at 4 o'clock. The public will be excluded from this performance, which will be for newspaper folks only, and which is designed as a "show me" introduction to the real thing that begins Friday.

STARTING THE WHEELS OF THE M. O. H., Dotto Makes Good Again—(Concluded From Yesterday)

ATLANTA'S STRIDES, DAY BY DAY

ALL THE NEWS OF REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING

The property owners boosting the improvements of Whitehall, Peachtree and other streets in the city are not discouraged by sudden depletement of the city's funds by the purchase of the crematory just when the city was on the eve of passing the appropriation necessary for the proposed innovations, but are determined that the work will be in some manner accomplished.

To this end several meetings will be held today.

The property owners pushing the regrading of Whitehall street will hold a meeting today to devise means of helping council to help them get the money for the work. The amount required for this work is but $30,000, and the Whitehall people believe that this can be had.

The construction of several new buildings on Whitehall street is being held up by the uncertain status of affairs in regard to the regrading. Every effort will be made to settle the matter at once.

It is probable that committees on the widening of Peachtree at "the neck of the bottle," the improvement of Cherokee avenue and other improvements will also hold similar meetings either separately or jointly today or tomorrow.

"As imperative as the matter of a municipal crematory may be," said Charles H. Black, one of a number of citizens interested in street improvements, last night, "the people of Atlanta cannot afford to let the city stand still while this is being paid for. Some sort of a plan will be formulated today, whereby the situation may be relieved."

Tenth Street Car Line.

The petitioners from the Home Park school neighborhood for the extension of the West Peachtree street car line out Tenth street will meet in the office of Preston S. Arkwright this afternoon at 3 o'clock. They will hold a conference with President Arkwright with the view of the extension of the line into the Home Park school territory. The list of petitioners includes 125 names.

Ivy Street Prospects.

With the regrading of Ivy street practically completed the importance of that thoroughfare is already beginning to manifest itself.

The street railway company has applied a permit from the city, allowing it to double-track the street and extend the car lines to Edgewood avenue, thereby relieving some of the congestion of street car traffic on Peachtree street and furnishing a better car service to the Armory-Auditorium.

Joel Hurt has come forward in a letter to property owners, suggesting that the street be widened to a 65-foot thoroughfare before the regrading is done and the pavement laid. He urges that sooner or later Ivy street will need the fifteen feet more of width that he now proposes, and that the execution of this work now will save in the future the inconvenience and expense that has been and is being experienced in regard to Peachtree street. Mr. Hurt also suggests that the property owners make of Ivy street a retail thoroughfare, excluding garages and establishments of such nature.

Legal Sales Today.

A number of interesting real estate sales will take place at public auction this morning at the courthouse door, this being legal sales' day. The number of parcels to be offered is not so large as usual, but a good sized crowd and some lively bidding is expected, nevertheless.

Among other offerings will be the following by Forrest and George Adair: Nos. 14-16 Ponders avenue, just off Marietta street, renting for $59.60 a month; a Capitol avenue residence, renting for $25 a month; No. 80 Richmond street, No. 50 Wilson street and Nos. 81, 83 and 85 Elizabeth street.

Real Estate Sales.

Harris G. White has sold for Mrs. Lillie D. Skinner to Mrs. J. K. Barcroft a residence property on Highland and North avenues and Williams Mill road for $12,500. The lot fronts 11 feet on Highland avenue, 273 feet on Williams Mill road and 240 feet on North avenue.

Charles E. DuPree, of the W. L. & John O. DuPree agency, has sold for Mrs. Peter F. Smith to Henry A. Coles, No. 286 Myrtle street, a two-story, ten-room house on a lot 55x195, for a consideration of $9,500, 50 per cent of which was cash. The property is fifty feet south of Eighth street.

William A. Vernoy, of the Vernoy Realty and Investment company, reports the sale of several lots and

Gibert & Clay.

New York, June 2.—Today's government report showing the condition of the coton crop, as of May 25th to be 79.1, against 78.9 last year, was nearly four points lower than the market in general had expected and consequently took the trade by surprise. Whereas, selling had been quite free during the morning owing to fastorable crop reports, buying set in upon the issuance of the bureau figures, which advanced prices about fifteen points. While considerable selling met the advance, the tone of the market held steady, under continued short covering.

Cattle receipts light, market about steady. Fleshy steers and good butcher cows in active demand. Receipts this week have been very irregular and mixed and not enough good butcher cows to supply the demand. Both medium steers and cows have been in better supply and have in most cases met with ready sale, for reason of the scarcity in the better class. Prices have varied from ¼c lower on common kinds to a possible ¼c higher on this week's tops, which were hardly good enough to be considered an average top. Commission men are expecting light receipts for the incoming week with a steady market.

YOUR WANT-AD COPY FOR THE SPECIAL CLASSIFIED SECTION OF THE WOMAN'S EDITION

MUST be in The Constitution's office by noon today.

Cash must accompany copy, which must indicate that it is to appear in this special classified section.

The rate is only 1 cent a word, or 7 cents a line. You put your message into 60,000 to 70,000—and maybe more—homes, before 300,000 to 350,000 readers.

This is a very conservative estimate. Many who buy this Woman's Edition will preserve at least one copy.

It is seldom that those who can use classified advertising—and especially those catering to womankind—have an opportunity like this.

Checks, drafts or postage will be accepted for small amounts from those outside of Atlanta. This special section, though carrying the classifications of The Constitution's regular want ad pages, will appear separate from the latter, which will occupy their usual position.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL OF THE MARKETS

SHARP ADVANCE MADE IN PRICE OF COTTON

Government Report Was Bullish and Came as a Surprise. Spot Quiet.

New York, June 2.—The government's first cotton report of the season caused a sharp advance in the cotton market today, and the close was steady at a net gain of from 2 to 9 points.

The market opened steady at a decline of 7 to 13 points on the old crop, and of 3 to 5 points on new crop positions, owing to lower cables, good weather over the holidays and favorable weather forecasts. New crop positions sold about 5 to 8 points net lower shortly after the call, with both October and December contracts breaking through the 11 cent level for the first time since early last month. There was enough scattered realizing by recent sellers to check the decline around this level, and rallies of 2 or 3 points occurred from the lowest, but the talk around the ring was generally bearish, owing to expectations that the government report would show a condition well over the ten-year average and to a feeling that the crop outlook had improved since the government data were secured as a result of favorable growing conditions.

The report, however, made the condition of the crop only 79.1, comparing with 78.9 last year; 87.8 in 1911, and the ten-year average of 79.9.

Private reports published last week had averaged over 82 per cent, and the official figures consequently came as a decided surprise. Immediately after their publication, covering became active and prices were soon selling 8 to 14 points above the closing figures of last Thursday. July rallied from 11.35, the low point of the morning, to 11.55, while October advanced from 10.98 to 11.19, or within 7 points of the recent high level. Realizing checked the advance around this level, and the market eased off 4 or 5 points from the best during the later trading, with local bears moderate sellers in the last hour on the assumption that the bullish government report had failed to create any fresh interest on the long side.

COTTON CONDITION PUT AT 79.1 PER CENT

Washington, June 2.—The newly planted cotton crop of the United States showed a condition on May 25 of 79.1 per cent of a nominal, the United States department of agriculture's crop-reporting board announced at noon today on the first condition report of the season, which always is looked forward to with great interest by the cotton-growers, textile manufacturers and cotton dealers. This condition, compiled from the reports of the correspondents and agents of the department's bureau of statistics, compares with a condition of 78.9 per cent on May 25 last year, 87.8 per cent on the corresponding date in 1911, 82.0 per cent in 1910 and 79.9 per cent the average condition for the past ten years on May 25. The generally favorable growing conditions throughout the cotton belt since the planting of the crop had caused much speculation as to the condition of the plants and resulted in unofficial estimates ranging from 79.5 per cent to as high as 85 per cent.

The area planted to cotton this year also has been the subject of much speculation in cotton circles, but the department of agriculture's official estimate will not be issued until July 3, owing to the passage of the law last year which deferred this annual report from June to a month later. Unofficially the area planted this year is estimated by the most conservative at an increase over the 34,283,000 acres picked last year. These unofficial estimates range from a 3 per cent increase upward. A 8 per cent increase in the average planted would indicate an area of about 35,311,000.

Comparisons of condition on May 25 of this year, last and the ten-year average condition, by states, with the revised figures of the department of agriculture, showing the area picked and the yield per acre in pounds last year, follow:

Duluth, Minn., June 2.—Linseed, $1.29¾ bid; September, $1.31⅝; October, $1.40⅝.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, June 2.—Cotton made a moderate advance today on the first condition report of the season from the government. The figures, 79.1 per cent of the normal, were well under average expectations and were no more or less than a surprise to all but those who held extremely bullish opinions. Market letters and private estimates pointed to 82 or 83 as the average trader's opinion of what the figures would be.

Following the report, the market rose 13 to 15 points. No great volume of business was done. The ring would have been more active but for the fact that tomorrow is a holiday in this market.

On the opening, the tone was steady and prices were six to nine points down, on poor cables and extremely favorable weather and crop news. In the early trading the market went to a net decline of 7 to 10 points. At 11 o'clock, when the bureau figures were issue, the trading months were 3 to 5 points under Friday's last quotations. At the highest after the report, they were ten points over. The close was steady at a net advance of 6 to 9 points.

The weather map was dry and warm and it caused some little selling, together with reports from the belt that the crop was growing fast under favorable conditions. The rise in temperatures removed the one cause of complaint concerning crop conditions. Bears claimed that the crop has made great improvement since May 25, the date to which the condition figures were carried.

RAINS IN THE WEST LOWERED WHEAT PRICE

Market Closed Weak, One and One-Eighth to One and One-Half Cents Off.

Chicago, June 2.—Wheat today declined sharply, chiefly because of rains in western Kansas and in parts of Oklahoma. The market closed weak at a net loss of 1⅛@1¼c to 1⅜@1½c. Latest prices for corn were a shade to ¼c off, and for oats ⅛ down to a 1-16c gain. In provisions the outcome varied from 2½c lower to an upturn of 7½c.

Although the rain southwest did not appear to have been general, the effect on the wheat pit was instantaneous and decisive. The trade has been prepared for an exciting bull market, but there was a rush of longs to the selling side, and prices gave way. Rain in the Red river valley also was reported. Rumors of export sales did not develop any rallying power, and news of a big decrease in the visible supply proved equally without effect. Seaboard clearances of wheat and flour equalled 1,299,000 bushels. Primary receipts of wheat *were 662,000 bushels; a year ago 383,-*000 bushels.

Corn was upheld by a fair amount of commission buying. Rural offerings were rather meager, and shipping demand good.

Unfavorable crop prospects had a steadying effect on oats.

Resting orders to buy at a decline rallied the provision market. At first, however, the list was under considerable pressure on account of the heavy run of hogs.

CANADIAN PACIFIC LED IN STOCK DECLINE

Over Thirty Stocks Broke to the Lowest Record This Year. Bonds Weak.

New York, June 2.—Heavy pressure was directed against stocks today, and on an increased volume of business prices in many instances broke several points. Canadian Pacific, the exceptionall weak feature, fell 13 points, a loss within a week of 25 points. Union Pacific declined 4 3-8, Reading 3, Amalgamated 2 1-2 and other standard issues 1 to 2 points. Over thirty stocks, of which Atchison, Canadian Pacific, New York Central, Northern Pacific, Pennsylvania and Union Pacific are the most prominent, broke to the lowest reached this year. The average price of active stocks fell to the lowest since 1909.

The action of the market was determined largely by the attitude of foreign holders of American securities. The unpleasant impression made abroad, particularly in France, by the St. Louis and San Francisco, led to a slump in Americans in London during the holiday period here, in which Canadian Pacific broke 9 points. When trading was resumed here, London came into the market as a heavy seller, not only of Canadian Pacific, but Union Pacific, Steel, Amalgamated and other stocks. Sales for London account, amounting to 30,000 or more shares, were instrumental in forcing off prices sharply at the outset.

The weakness was accentuated by bears selling here and by insistent pressure against Union Pacific, due to disappointment over the latest plans for dissolution of the Harriman system. Reading also was under pressure, but Southern Pacific was relatively firm. There was evidence of liquidation among the standard stocks and the undertone was feverish and unsettled to the end.

Other declines were shown in the fortnightly report of European copper stocks, which are 2,500 tons lower than at the middle of May, and 12,000 lower than a year ago. Exports of copper for May showed an increase of over 5,000 tons.

The bond market showed weakness in spots, with the general movement downward. Total sales, par value, $1,989,000. United States bonds unchanged on call.

Treasury Statement.

Washington, June 2.—The condition of the United States treasury at beginning of business today was:

Working balance, $61,320,914.

In banks and Philippine treasury, $47,426,993.

Total of general fund, $135,977,282.

Receipts Saturday, $3,176,110.

Disbursements, $1,882,000.

The surplus this fiscal year is $6,378,975, as against a deficit of $6,462,136 last year.

The figures for receipts, disbursements, surplus and deficit exclude Panama canal and public debt transactions.

Money and Exchange.

New York, June 2.—Money on call firmer at 2¾@3 per cent; ruling rate, 3; closing bid, 2¾; offered at 2¾.

New York, June 2.—Coffee futures opened barely steady at a decline of 8 points on June and of 25 to 28 points on later months, under European selling, liquidation and bear pressure, which was encouraged by weak foreign markets, lower cost and freight offers and reports of an easier spot situation. Covering by recent sellers and a little support from trade interests absorbed the offerings on a scale down, but only slight rallies occurred and while the final tone was steady, last prices were practically the lowest of the day and season, at a net loss of from 34 to 35 points. ## London Stock Market.

London, June 2.—The recent depression on the stock exchange was deepened today by further liquidation and underwriters sales.

American securities opened weak. Canadian Pacific sagged 4½ points under local liquidation during the forenoon, but changes in the rest of the list were limited to small fractional losses in most cases. Later, New York joined the selling movement and offered stocks freely. This depressed the market sharply. Closed weak.

John F. Black & Co.

New York, June 2.—The government condition report, placing the condition on May 25th at 79.1 was a surprise to the market, in that it was about 3 points lower than expected. It was a decided disappointment to the bears and changed a weak market into a steady one. Cables were not good and prices of the morning were lower than those of last Thursday. After the report, however, there was a quick advance and although a weak stock market was a depressing feature, the close was steady, with July two points higher than Thursday's close and October up 8 points. The world needs a bumper American crop this year, and such a start as shown by the government report leaves much to be desired. In spite of the fact that the weather has been generally good since May 25.

Liverpool, which kept open for the report, is due to come ¼ down to ½ up.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, June 2.—The government condition report of 79.1, issued today, was a distinct surprise to the trade, who had anticipated a report of about 83. However, after the initial advance there was more offerings evident, as the south felt that the crop has improved materially since the 25th of May. Europe was a buyer during the last hour and we believe that the spinning trade of the world will now be willing to buy against their commitments of goods for fall delivery, whenever those who feel sure or a large crop from June prospects bring sufficient pressure to bear on this market. It is, therefore, well to bear in mind that contracts thus sold will probably pass into the hands of the trade and withdrawn from the market.

Liverpool is due to come ½ point lower on the near positions and ½ higher on the distant months.

Groceries.

St. Louis, June 2.—Flour quiet. Hay lower; timothy, $12.00@16.50; prairie, $10.00@13.00.

New York, June 2.—Flour steady.

Cincinnati, June 2.—Flour quiet.

DEMOCRATS OF HOUSE RESTRICT LEGISLATION

Only Tariff and Currency at Extra Session—Georgians Assigned to Committees.

Washington, June 2.—House democrats, in caucus today, restricted the legislative program of the extra session to tariff, currency, emergency appropriations, election cases. Committee assignments, as submitted by Chairman Underwood and his colleagues of the ways and means committee majority, were adopted by the caucus without change.

The program as presented by Representative Underwood was made binding on democratic members of the house standing committees. The resolution by which this was accomplished provided that no standing committees—except the committtees on ways and means, appropriations, banking and currency, elections, printing, accounts and rules—shall report bills or resolutions to the house or have them placed on the calendar without permission expressly granted by the democratic caucus.

The caucus chose Representative Shackelford, of Missouri, for chairman of the new committee on good roads, and named Representative Dickinson, of Missouri, to succeed him as a member of the ways and means committee.

While the committee list was under consideration, Representative Booher, of Missouri, and Tribble, of Georgia, complained that Representatives Maher, of New York, and Hensley, of Missouri, had been "jumped" to make room for Representative Lewis, of Maryland, as chairman of the committee on labor. Mr. Lewis was ranked by the other two members on the committee in the last congress. Representative Tribble said if organized labor was to dictate the selection of a chairman of the house committee on labor he would like to know why bankers should not dictate the chairmanship of the banking and currency committee, farmers the agriculture committee and so on.

The caucus gave Representative Lloyd, of Missouri, a silver loving cup in appreciation of his services as chairman of the democratic congressional committee. Representative Palmer, presenting the cup, eulogized Mr. Lloyd's management of various campaigns.

The members of the Georgia delegation in the house were assigned to the following committees by the ways and means committee, which assignments will be approved by the democratic caucus this afternoon:

Edwards—Rivers and harbors.

Crisp—Pensions, elections and election president, vice president and representatives in congress.

Adams—Interstate and foreign commerce, chairman.

Howard—Military affairs.

Bartlett—Appropriation.

Lee—Agriculture.

Tribble—Naval affairs.

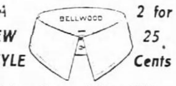

Bell—Postoffice and post roads.

Hardwick—Coinage, weights and measures, chairman; rules.

Walker—Foreign relations.

Hughes—Education, chairman.

The delegation as a whole did not fare as well as it did in the last congress, although again it has been increased by the addition of one new member through the creation of another congressional district. The state has no representation on the ways and means committee, which it enjoyed in the last house.

Unique and Clever Roles in "Importance of Being Earnest"

"The Importance of Being Earnest," which is presented tonight at the Grand by the Atlanta Players' club, is one of the most interesting of all Oscar Wilde's plays, and it has many times been declared the most popular. It is not a problem play. It is a breezy, entertaining comedy, and yet at the same time it is filled with refreshing bits of philosophy. It caricatures, in a way the whims and follies of the English upper set. The name, for example hinges on the too frequent tendency of society girls to fall in love with a man's name rather than with the man. Such interesting bits of human nature are displayed in this way throughout the action.

The following description of the characters, as written by one who witnessed the final dress rehearsal and was captivated by the brightness of the play, suggests the interesting roles that will be played before the audience at the Grand tonight:

Cast of Characters.

John Worthing—A wealthy English bachelor, who pretends to have a prodigal brother in London named "Earnest, but who goes to the city and assumes the role of "Ernest" himself, winning the love of a beautiful young lady by the fascination of the name—is played by Mr. Marsh Adair.

Honorable Gwendolyn Fairfax—The young Englishwoman who is fascinated by that name "Earnest"—is the role in which a debut is made with the Players' club by Miss Hildreth Burton Smith.

Algernon Moncrief—A blase and cynical young English bachelor—falls in love with a simple, naive girl from the country and proposes to her within fifteen minutes after meeting her. The role is played with splendid character delineation by Mr. Lamar Hill.

Cecily Cardew—the happy young girl who plays the mischief in the heart of the inured bachelor—seems the most natural little person in the world, as acted on the stage by Mrs William Owens.

Rev. Canon Chasuble, D. D.—A typical English clergyman, who don't mind showing a wee bit of sentiment when he's alone with a lady fair—is one of the side-splitting features of the play, as presented by Mr. Hamilton Douglas, Jr.

Lady Bracknell—Mother of Gwendolyn, whose austere dignity is typical of the English women of the upper class—is played with charming grace by Mrs. John Marshall Slaton.

Miss Prism—An old maid governess, who likes the Reverend Chasuble very much indeed—gives an extraordinary opportunity for real character acting by Mrs. Henry Bernard Scott.

Lane and Merriman—The roles of the two English menservants in the play—are unique to an Atlanta audience, as assumed by R. Frank Taylor and Tom Donaldson.

Society in Evening Costume Will Witness Players' Club

In compliment to the players, a group of Atlantans most prominent people, and the officers of the Players' club, the audience at the Grand tonight to witness the "Importance of Being Earnest," will wear evening dress, and the scene in the audience will be one brilliant and picturesque.

There will be many box parties; the best seats have been taken, and the warmest interest will greet the popular amateurs when the curtain rises at 8:15 o'clock. The play is one which will especially amuse society, for like all the plays of Wilde, the theme is one essentially social; the incidents are those which might occur any day in English homes where world people meet. The problems are sometimes serious, dealt with lightly; or, on the contrary, very light incidents taken seriously by light-headed people.

That very charming and talented woman, Mrs. John Marshall Slaton, the wife of Georgia's governor-elect, will take the leading role. Mrs. Slaton had declined to take part in the play at first on account of her many engagegents, but when the lady assigned to the part found she could not participate many days after rehearsals had begun, Mrs. Slaton consented to take the part.

The members of the cast are: Mrs. Scott, Mrs. William Owens, Miss Hildreth Burton-Smith, Mr. Marsh Adair, Mr. Lamar Hill, Mr. Hamilton Douglas, Jr. and Mr. Frank Taylor, who have rehearsed their parts studiously and faithfully, directed by Mrs. Thaddeus Horton, also Mrs. T. B. Felder, the president of the club.

After the performance the members of the cast and many members of the club will have supper at the Piedmont Driving club.
